REPORT JURY INDICTS THREE O.S.R. INMATES

Charges Believed Included In 19 Secret Indictments Filed With Court.

RETURN 35 TRUE BILLS

Reports Say Robbery, Auto Theft, Kidnaping Charges Confronting Trio.

It was understood today that the three Mansfield reformatory fugitives who escaped last Thursday night, armed with butcher knives and a blackjack, were named in three secret indictments each last night by the Richland county grand jury which returned 35 bills at the end of a three-day session.

While Prosecutor Harold Lutz declined to comment on the nature of the 19 secret indictments returned by the jury, he said "there might be significance in the fact that the three men are still in the county jail." They had not been served with indictments by Sheriff Frank E. Robinson at noon today. Contents of secret indictments cannot legally be revealed until the charges are served on the defendants.

It was learned from reliable sources that each of the three fugitives, returned here yesterday by Sheriff Robinson, was indicted for auto theft, robbery, and kidnaping.

If such charges were returned by the jury, they would involve the abduction of Harold Schnittke, 24, Mansfield, last Saturday night near Perrysville, by three men believed to be the reformatory fugitives. They forced Schnittke to drive south of Loudonville where they robbed him of $5 and took the car he was driving.

The trio, Ronald Long, 24, Hamilton county, Elwood Deckerhoff, 24, and James Layton, 25, both of Columbiana county, were captured near Ripley, W. Va., Tuesday after abandoning the car.

Defendants indicted yesterday by the jury will be arraigned before Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston at 9 a. m. Friday, C. A. McKinley, court assignment clerk, said today.

Named in an open indictment for arson was John Ritchie, Mansfield, accused of starting the fire which destroyed a combination grocery store and dwelling at Trailer City about two weeks ago.

STARTS CLIMB

Mercury Up To Herald Advent of Spring Tonight.

As the climax to a rather harrowing week, Spring will arrive officially and actually today at 7:20 p. m. Adding unneeded force to the lion and lamb proverb, temperatures started shooting upward this morning after four days of a record-breaking cold wave had gripped the city.

A cooperative weatherman promises warmer weather under cloudy skies with a warm spring rain tomorrow. At noon, the mercury had already climbed from 29 to 45 degrees. Yesterday's average was 32.5 degrees with just a trace of snow late in the afternoon. Saturday will also bring rain with slightly lower temperatures.

In some parts of the country, it was so warm that topcoats were shed. The mercury still hovered below the freezing mark in states near the Canadian border and on the eastern seaboard.

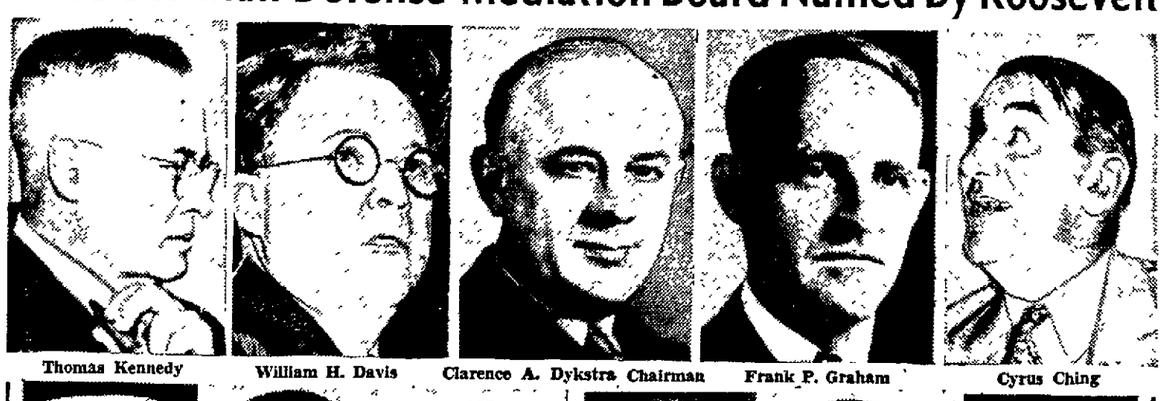
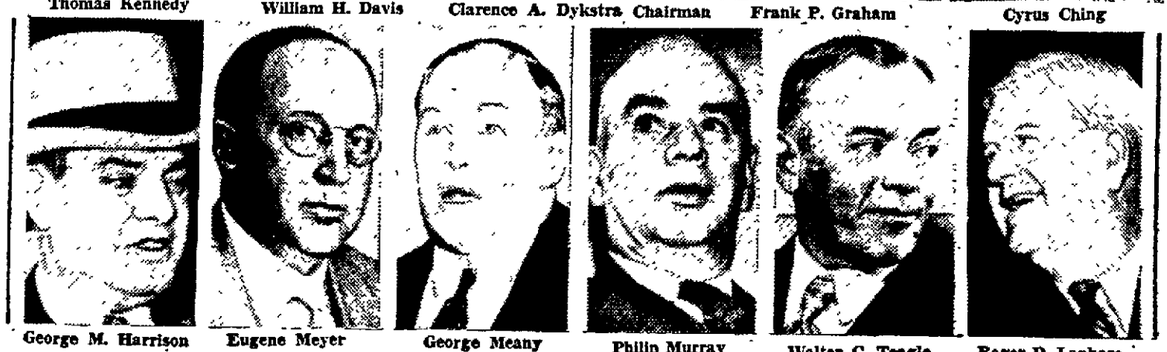
Here's 11-Man Defense Mediation Board Named By Roosevelt



Thomas Kennedy — William H. Davis — Clarence A. Dykstra, Chairman — Frank P. Graham — Cyrus Ching



George M. Harrison — Eugene Meyer — George Meany — Philip Murray — Walter C. Teagle — Roger D. Lapham

In an effort to settle labor disputes before they can disrupt the national defense program, President Roosevelt has named an 11-man mediation board, with Clarence A. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin and director of the selective service system, as chairman. Besides Dykstra, the members named are William Hammatt Davis, chairman of the New York state mediation board; Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina; George Meany, general secretary of the A. F. of L., George M. Harrison, grand president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks; Philip Murray, head of the C. I. O.; Thomas Kennedy, vice president of the C. I. O.'s United Mine Workers of America; Walter C. Teagle, former president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey; Roger D. Lapham, president of the American Hawaiian Steamship company; Eugene Meyer, publisher of the Washington Post, and Cyrus Ching, vice president of the United States Rubber corporation.

JURORS PROBE WHIPPING CASE

Ashland Priest Committed To Hospital For Insane; Start Quiz Regardless.

BULLETIN

ASHLAND—(AP)—The Ashland county grand jury, investigating charges that Rev. William E. Rooney whipped a semi-nude 16-year-old girl, was told today to ignore a probate court decision that Father Rooney was "mentally ill." Common Pleas Judge H. E. Culbertson told the jurors the probate court was without jurisdiction yesterday in ordering Father Rooney, pastor of St. Edward's Catholic church, to Massillon State hospital on the testimony of two psychiatrists.

ASHLAND—An Ashland county grand jury today began an investigation of charges that Rev. William E. Rooney, 47, of St. Edward's Catholic church, had whipped a semi-nude 16-year-old girl with a strap on March 7.

Prosecutor A. Ross Siverling announced that he would present the evidence to the jury although the priest was ordered committed to Massillon state hospital yesterday as being "mentally ill."

Rev. Rooney's commitment was ordered by Probate Judge S. H. Boffenmyer after four psychiatrists had found the priest to be mentally sick. He was charged recently with whipping Virginia Barrett, 16, in the nude with a heavy leather strap.

Siverling said that the one case had no bearing on the other as far as his office was concerned and that the grand jury would hear the charges regardless of the outcome of the probate court decision.

The examination, made at the

Expect Passage of Aid Bill By Senate Early Next Week

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Backed by the thumping bi-partisan house majority of 336 to 55, the $7,000,000,000 British aid appropriation bill went to the senate side of the capitol today, where administration leaders predicted it would get prompt endorsement next week.

Responding to appeals for unity to show the world the United States was whole-heartedly behind the aid program, an irresistible coalition of house Democrats and Republicans sent the record-breaking peacetime bill to the senate last night without a single change.

Getting ready to match the house record for swift preliminary action, a senate appropriations subcommittee decided to start hearings on the measure this afternoon and called various army officials as the first witnesses.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley (D., Ky.) and other Democratic chiefs forecast it would be approved by the senate subcommittee tomorrow and pass the senate without change Monday or Tuesday.

Senator Byrnes (D. S.C.) one of the Democratic strategists, said he had heard of no substantial effort to impede the bill or to amend it substantially.

One hint of senate feeling was given by Senator Taft (R. O.) who fought the original lease-lend bill to the last. Now that the program has been adopted, he said, "what we ought to do is send Great Britain all the aid provided under the bill."

Taft informed reporters he might not even offer his proposal to cut the aid appropriation to $3,500,000 and limit its spending to the fiscal year which ends June 30, 1942.

However, Senator Clark, (D., Mo.) one of Taft's colleagues in Japs Reported Planning To Send Army Into Thailand.

SAIGON, French Indo-China—(AP)—Widespread reports which the Associated Press has been unable to trace to their source said today the Japanese were planning within the next two weeks to send 100,000 troops from Hainan island across middle French Indo-China into Thailand.

After traversing Indo-China, the reports said, the Japanese either would proceed to Bangkok, go toward the northern border of British Malaya or turn northeast toward the Burma border in an attempt to isolate Chungking, capital of the central Chinese government, and prevent the movement of military supplies over the Burma road.

NEWARK—(AP)—Grover Fleming of Belle Center, publisher of the American Examiner, today pleaded innocent to four charges of criminal libel and was bound over to the grand jury under total bond of $6,000 by Municipal Judge Frank Bolton.

Three of the charges were filed by Police Chief Gail Christman and a fourth by Carl Braden, a factory worker, in connection with articles appearing in the Examiner.

FDR TO VISIT NAVAL AIR BASE

President Heads South For Vacation At Sea.

ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL, EN ROUTE TO PORT EVERGLADES, Fla.—(U.P.)—President Roosevelt, en route south for a vacation at sea, halts briefly today for an inspection of the new $40,000,000 naval air base near Jacksonville, Fla.

The party will embark tonight on the presidential yacht Potomac at Port Everglades.

Mr. Roosevelt hoped for about 10 days of complete relaxation, fishing along the southeast Florida coast and in the Bahamas.

MOVING SWIFTLY TO QUIET LABOR

U. S. Conciliation Service Will Consider Disputes Before New Board Acts.

(By Associated Press)

The United States conciliation service moved quickly today to cooperate with the national defense mediation board appointed by President Roosevelt to compose differences between labor and management in defense industries.

John R. Steelman, director of the service which is a unit of the labor department, announced the division's 110 conciliators would gather next week-end in regional meetings to discuss pending labor disputes.

Steelman said his division was "determined to assist labor and industry in maintaining harmonious relations to insure the free and uninterrupted flow of work and materials in the interest of national defense."

Such are the broad aims of the board named yesterday by Mr. Roosevelt. Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin and director of the selective service system, was appointed chairman. There are two other representatives of the pub-

U. S., Britain Said to Have Agreed On Naval Base Leasings.

LONDON—(AP)—A well-informed source said today the United States and Great Britain had agreed on details of the leasing of naval bases to the United States and probably would sign an agreement in a few days.

British and American experts have been discussing the terms of the agreement since the United States turned over 50 destroyers to Britain last summer in exchange for western hemisphere bases.

PITTSBURGH—Forty-four Russian engineers were aboard the crack Manhattan Limited which saboteurs missed by just 20 minutes in wrecking the smaller Buckeye Limited Sunday night, Pennsylvania railroad witnesses testified at a hearing today.

Five persons were killed and 114 injured in the Baden, Pa., disaster.

Although the Manhattan conductor said he "understood" the 44 passengers were "Russian diplomats or engineers," an official company message listed them as "Russian engineers," B. B. Kroen, a Pennsylvania official, testified.

Kroen said he had "no idea" who the engineers were and declared that the information in the message, sent from Chicago, was "not available to outsiders." He admitted it was "possible" someone might have gained access to company offices after closing hours, however.

Eighteen CCC boys, designated by an earlier witness as "army men," occupied a tourist sleeper on the Manhattan, W. E. Bryant, flagman, testified. Of the Russian engineers, Kroen said:

"I don't know whether they were Russians representing their government or other engineers working for the Russian government."

The testimony came as a significant development in the wake of previous suspicions voiced by Pennsylvania railroad officials that the Manhattan may have been the intended target of the train wreckers

ONE YEAR'S ALL

Army to Demobilize National Guard, Barring Emergency.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A high army authority disclosed today that, barring the gravest emergency, the war department had decided to demobilize national guard units upon completion of their year in federal service.

The same policy also will apply, it was said, to the thousands of men who have been or are to be inducted into the army for a year's training under the selective service act.

Reports have circulated in recent weeks that the guard's active service might be extended six months or even a year, in view of world conditions. It was understood that some national guard officials favored this lengthening of the training period.

The war department has been studying the question for some time, in regard both to guardsmen and selective service trainees.

Fifty-two lives were lost in a blast which destroyed the powder company's plant last Sept. 12.

Nazis Report Leaving Vast Field of Flame

Dispatch Says Greeks Enter Tepeleni As British Claim Sinking of Two Italian Supply Ships; Battle Continues In East Africa.

(By Associated Press)

German warplanes showered fiery death and destruction on London overnight, dropping 10,000 incendiary bombs and many high explosive missiles in a six-hour assault which Nazi pilots declared left great "fields of fire" in the world's largest metropolis.

Berlin said hundreds of Nazi raiders blasted the empire capital in an "unprecedented attack far exceeding Coventry."

On the Albanian war front, an unconfirmed dispatch reaching Belgrade said the Greeks had finally entered Tepeleni—the scene of bitter fighting for many weeks—and captured numerous Italian prisoners.

In Athens, a Greek government spokesman made no mention of the fall of Tepeleni itself, but asserted that Greek fire had withered seven attacks by close-ranked Fascist troops and that ravines south of the Viosa river in the Tepeleni sector were littered with Italian dead.

Preparations for the "battle of the Balkans"—the expected German invasion of Greece from Bulgaria—moved ahead at a feverish pace

Reports from the Greek frontier town of Gevgelia, Yugoslavia, said "great numbers of British troops" landed yesterday at the port of Salonika, Greece.

Berlin dispatches to the Yugoslav press asserted that both the Turkish and Yugoslav questions have been 'settled'—without explanation—and declared:

"The Greek question is already settled. Only a short time must elapse before this conflagration which threatened to engulf other Balkan states will be extinguished.'

This could be taken two ways:

1. That Nazi pressure has driven Greece into seeking an "honorable peace" with her wobbling Italian foe.

2. That a quarter of a million German troops, now massed on the Greek-Bulgarian frontier, would attempt to "settle" Greece by blitzkrieg violence.

Authorized quarters in Berlin said the German-Turkish situation had been "clarified" in a reply Adolf Hitler has received to his recent message to Turkish President Ismet Inonu—described by Balkan sources as an offer to look after the "interests and well-being" of Turkey.

There was no confirmation, however, that either Greece or Turkey had softened in their recent stiff attitudes toward Germany. The landing of British troops at Salonika would indicate that Greece, at any rate, was determined to fight.

At sea, Hitler's high command reported 66,500 tons of shipping had been sent to the bottom in forays against Britain's sea-borne commerce.

Nazi U-boats, it was said, destroyed 59,500 tons out of a strongly-protected British convoy, including "a whaling mothership of over 20,000 tons."

On the British side of the ledger, the London admiralty announced its submarines had sunk two heavy-laden Italian supply ships and "almost certainly" destroyed another and had torpedoed two crowded troop transports, of which "it is considered certain that one was completely destroyed."

Well-informed quarters in London said Britain and the United States probably would sign an agreement within a few days on the leasing of naval bases to the United States. British and American experts have been discussing the terms of the agreement since

SABOTAGE: Bulgarians Said To Be Hampering Nazi Moves

BULLETIN

SOFIA—(U.P.)—Police said today that they had caught a nest of spies who had confessed that they were working for the British intelligence service and had received monthly salaries for military information transmitted to British agents.

(By United Press)

ISTANBUL, Turkey—A report reached Istanbul today that Bulgarian underground organizations had started on the greatest sabotage campaign ever seen in southeastern Europe to impede the German armies and that they had already thrown German communications in southeastern Bulgaria into a chaotic state.

The report was brought by an authoritative anti-German Bulgarian who had just escaped across the Turkish-Bulgarian border.

He said Bulgarian saboteurs had dynamited at least two German oil trains, blown up bridges and cut telegraph lines. He asserted that every telegraph line in southern Bulgaria had been damaged during the last two weeks.

The informant said that political elements who had long been bitter enemies had united to oppose the German march and that among them were many men who had gained notoriety for skill with bombs and dynamite.

According to the informant, hundreds of agents operating for the organizations had been well supplied with money and dynamite and plans had been made for espionage and subversive propaganda.

The saboteurs had even planned to destroy this summer's Bulgarian crops as part of their work of impeding the Germans, the informant said.

He asserted that the leader of the saboteurs was a prominent Macedonian who was operating from a hideout in the Macedonian mountains. The informant said he could not give the leader's name. He added that another leader had escaped abroad to work from exile.

PEACE PLAN: Vatican Sends Out 'Feelers' to End War

Grand Jury 'Sentences' Six Richland Youths to U. S. Army

In refusing to return indictments yesterday against six Richland county youths who have been held in the county jail, the January term grand jury, in effect, "sentenced" them to a year of training in the army.

Freed by the jury were Marshall Markey, 24, Shelby R. D. 3, Robert Kimmel, 18, Mansfield R. D. 6, James Palm, 18, Mansfield R. D. 3; Thomas Berfield, 25, of 266 North Diamond street, and Michael Hoffer, 19, of 599 South Diamond street, Robert Shaw, 24, 234 East Fourth street, Markey, Hoffer, Kimmel, and Palm were accused of breaking and entering, Shaw of forgery and Berfield, cutting with intent to wound.

The youths, ranging from 18 to 25 years old, had been called or enlisted for selective service and took their physical examinations, but the charges against them kept them from going to camp. The three under 21 had to enlist to get into the army.

"The jury's action in freeing them was taken on the basis that the boys will be better off in the army for a year than in the Mansfield reformatory," Prosecutor Harold Lutz said.

He explained that the youths

Taxpayers Wait In Line as Collection Deadline Falls

With a line of taxpayers waiting at the county treasurer's office most of this morning, County Treasurer John E. Kolb said he expected real estate tax receipts to approach the $600,000 mark by the deadline tonight.

"It looks like most of them have paid or will be here today, so there's no need for a time extension," the treasurer said.

Receipts yesterday totaled $22,008, bringing collections this morning to $555,793. Payments today were expected to go well above yesterday's figure.

Kolb pointed out that a slight reduction in tax rates in certain districts this year may keep the receipts under last year's $675,000 for the first half of the year.

He said the reports of collectors in Shelby, Plymouth, Bellville, and Shiloh and mail receipts will continue to come in after the collection period closes tonight, adding thousands of dollars to the tax total.

Approximately 2,000, or less than half of the county's personal property holders, had listed their property for taxation today. Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said Personal tax receipts so far amount to $33,815.

The auditor predicted the usual last-minute rush next week to list personal holdings and pay taxes on them before the April 1 deadline.

Music for the semi-formal dance was furnished by Nels Blocher and his orchestra. Hosts for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tracht, retiring members of the committee.

The committee planned to hold an additional dance on April 2 at the hall which will be open to members and guests. At that time the new committee for the fall and winter season will be announced.

PLAY BRIDGE.

Mrs. George Conklin, Sturges avenue, entertained the Cyane club last night, and bridge was played. The winners were Miss Marie Ellen Campbell and Miss Isabel Kass. Luncheon was served, and pink and silver appointments were used. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. James Gills, West Fourth street, April 2.

GOOD REASONS WHY
QUINTUPLETS
use MUSTEROLE for CHEST COLDS
Mother—Give YOUR Child This Same Expert Care!
At the first sign of a chest cold the Quintuplets' throats and chests are rubbed with Children's Mild Musterole—a product made to promptly relieve the DISTRESS of children's colds and resulting bronchial and croupy coughs.
Relief usually comes quickly because Musterole is MORE than an ordinary "salve." It helps break up local congestion. As Musterole is used on the Quints you may be sure you are using just about the BEST product made. Also in Regular and Extra Strength for those preferring a stronger product.

FINAL BOOK REVIEW GIVEN BY CLEVELANDER

Mrs. W. E. Benninghoff Discusses "Random Harvest" By James Hilton As Program for Congregational Association.

By FRANCES E. GENSLEY

FOR her final program in Mansfield this year Mrs. W. E. Benninghoff, Cleveland, reviewed "Random Harvest" by James Hilton before an audience of several hundred people at the First Congregational church last night. Mrs. Benninghoff's appearance here was sponsored by the Women's association of the church.

The book, Hilton's latest, which would lend itself admirably to the flash-back variety of movie, tells the story of Charles Rainier, an English manufacturer and a veteran of the first World war. In the opening scenes it is Armistice day, and Rainier is chatting with a chance acquaintance on a train.

From that point the drama develops swiftly with Rainier disclosing his complete lapse of memory during a three year period following a shell shock in France. Finally one night, when Rainier and his young companion drop into a cheap theater the events of the three years come back to him.

The manufacturer then tells his companion of the three years during which he married Paula, and went to Liverpool for an interview with a newspaper editor. While there he fell, and his memory was restored, but the three year period was left a blank.

It is only after Rainier sets out to find Paula, and his present wife follows him that the listener learns that Mrs. Rainier is Paula, and can see a happy ending for the couple who have been haunted all their lives by a ghost of three years.

Mrs. Charles Fox, president of the association, introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Benninghoff will return in the fall for another series of reviews, it was announced this morning.

ROAM FOREST

Wild Horses Seen by Forestry Service Men in West.

PUEBLO, Colo.—(INS)—A small herd of wild horses—descendants of the stallions and palfreys brought to America by the Spanish Conquistadores—still roams the San Isabel Forest near Pueblo.

Presence of the herd was revealed recently through a survey conducted by forestry service men, who reported they had counted 11 horses in the group.

The fleet animals, sole remnants of bands that once were counted by the thousands, stay well away from the haunts of men and are extremely difficult to approach, the forestry men reported.

And though their hereditary enemies, the mountain lion and coyote, have taken their toll, in the end their most relentless enemy—man—will bring about their extinction.

Willkie's Sister From Berlin

Returning to the U. S. from Nazi Germany where she has been living three years with her husband, who is U. S. naval air attache in Berlin, Mrs. Charlotte Pihl, right, sister of Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican presidential figure in 1940, is shown in New York with Mrs. Willkie. Mrs. Pihl's husband is Commander Paul E. Pihl, U. S. N.

Fisticuff Battle.

Marlene Dietrich takes part in one of the most stirring fist fights ever filmed in her picture, "Seven Sinners," currently showing at the Ritz. Others engaged in the battle of fisticuffs in the tropics include John Wayne, Broderick Crawford, Mischa Auer and Billy Gilbert. Complications aplenty arise as Marlene drifts from one South Sea island cafe to another charming the men with her songs and glamor. Mischa Auer prefers pocket-picking to glamour however but John Wayne's preference lies the other way around. "Doomed Caravan," a William Boyd "Hopalong" Cassidy film and the second feature carries the audiences back to wagon freighting days on the plains.

Heart Appeal.

How two old storekeepers evolve a plan and carry it through to raise funds for a mobile hospital unit for Pine Ridge—how they serve as the "hands" for the paralyzed doctor to save the life of Bobs Watson—how they teach Clara Blandick a new outlook on life—all form a background for the heart-warming action in "Dreaming Out Loud," the Lum and Abner film opening today at the Park. In "Oklahoma Renegades," Bob Livingston, Raymond Hattan and Duncan Renaldo, "the 3 mesquiteers," portray veterans of the Spanish-American war who stake out homesteads in newly opened Oklahoma territory.

Machine Gun Drama.

Handling machine guns, staging traffic jams on a crowded street and training a tame goose are among the many odd jobs Hollywood's technical experts are called on to perform in their constantly-changing work. These were among the items handled during the filming of "The Penalty," now showing at the Ohio theater. Starring Edward Arnold, Lionel Barrymore and Gene Reynolds, the picture is a dramatic story of the underworld in which the son of a gangster is saved from the fate of his father. Robert Sterling and Marsha Hunt provide the romantic interest as a young farmer and village schoolteacher. Emma Dunn is another in the cast.

Adventure.

Called the most exciting of all the Lone Wolf adventures, "The Lone Wolf Takes A Chance" opens Friday at the Madison with Warren William again featured in the title role. Fiction's suave sleuth has been famed for years as an expert in romance and robbery and in this production a highly valuable shipment of U. S. currency engraving plates as the object of his and others' burglarious intentions. June Storey, Eric Blore and Henry Wilcoxon are in the cast. "Midnight In Miami," a stage production featuring a variety of acts and the regular film program occupies the Madison tonight.

Majestic Features

"Bury Me Not On a Lone Prairie," coupled with "Swiss Family Robinson," opens Friday at the Majestic. "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," plus "The Marines Fly High," with Chester Morris, Richard Dix and Lucille Ball continues tonight.

LEADERS MAKE FEW SCATTERED GAINS ON MART

Steels Strengthen But Many Issues Remain at Standstill With Timid Buying.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Scattered stock market leaders managed to tack on small fractions today but many issues were at a standstill or slightly in arrears.

Standard Gas & Electric preferreds pushed up more than 2 points. Occasional support was accorded Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel, Montgomery Ward and Kennecott.

Backward were Chrysler, Youngstown Sheet, Sears Roebuck, American Telephone, General Electric, duPont, and International Harvester.

Recently buoyant commodities turned a bit irregular.

Earnings statements, brokers said, helped bolster individual shares but buying timidity generally was accentuated by the cloudier European war outlook as London underwent the most severe Nazi bombing raid of the war.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berger of Route 2, Mansfield, are the parents of a daughter, born Monday at Emergency hospital.

A. T. Celini of 223 Wiley street, was admitted to Emergency hospital Monday.

FILES CHARGES

SHELBY—City officials today were investigating charges made by Mrs. Harry Chew, R. D. 3, Shelby, that a pile of dirt she drove her car into on West Smiley avenue Wednesday night was not lighted properly with red lanterns.

Mrs. Chew, who escaped with minor bruises, told police the lanterns were not on the extreme end of the pile, but were close to the curb, leaving the end traffic went around unlighted.

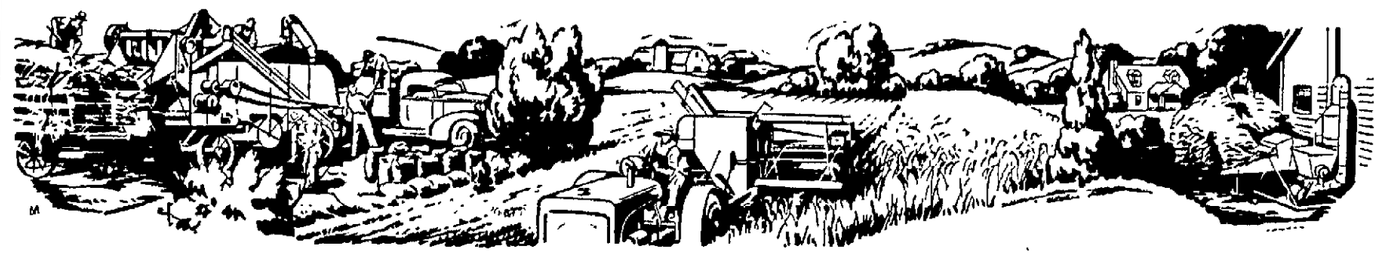
MR. FARMER:

You cannot farm successfully with old, worn-out equipment, and present prices and easy terms available on new equipment does not justify the attempt. The firms advertising on this page are all ready to show you their 1941 lines of the newest and most up-to-date farm machinery. See them today.

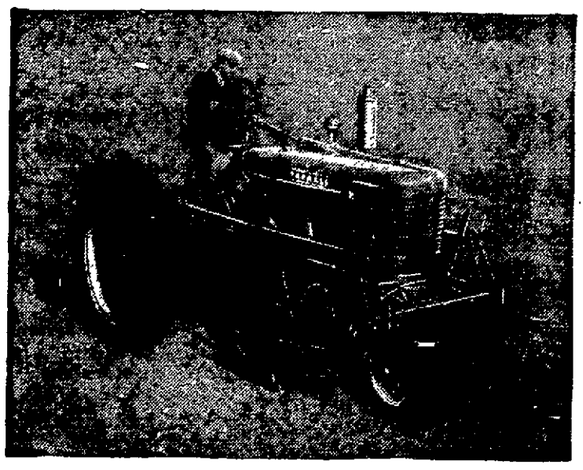


IT'S TIME TO PREPARE NOW!

Don't wait until the day you want to plow to replace worn-out equipment or order repair parts. You should be ready NOW! See any of the dealers advertising on this page.

BETTER EQUIPMENT for BETTER FARMING!

DO BETTER WORK —AND MORE OF IT!



The flexibility of Farmall-H makes it the right tractor for a variety of jobs. Farmal-H a 5-speed transmission with four ideal working speeds, and when equipped with rubber tires there is a fifth speed of 16 miles per hour. Your first glance at Farmall-H shows you handsome new lines in the famous Farmall line. But the real thrill comes when you put this great new Farmall through it's paces on your farm. You'll like the new comfort and ease of handling . . . and the way it pulls plows through any kind of soil. Get complete information about Farmall-H and what it will do for you. Ask us about big-size Farmall-M and MD, and Farmall-A and B the "Culti-Vision" tractors.

LOSES RACE TO COURT

OMAHA, Neb.—(U.P.)—A father traveled all-night from Torrington, Wyo., to Omaha to aid his son, David Poade, 20, who had wired that he had been arrested on a traffic violation. Poade arrived in court just after Judge C. J. Southard had fined the youth $27.50 for driving a truck with faulty brakes.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—What They Don't Know. By Harold Gray

BUT ALL I WAS TELLIN' THOSE REPORTERS WAS HOW MANY PLANES AN' GUNS AN' TANKS YOU WERE MAKIN'-- HOW MANY DID YOU TELL THEM?
3-20-41
I COULDN'T TELL 'EM 'ZACTLY, 'CAUSE I DON'T KNOW--AND ANYWAY YOU STOPPED ME 'FORE I GOT DOWN TO FIGGERS- BUT I SHOULD THINK YOU'D BE PROUD O' ALL YOU'RE DOIN'-
I AM, ANNIE-
THEN WHY WAS IT SO BAD FOR ME TO TELL 'EM WHATEVER I COULD?
HA! HA! WELL, YOU SEE, ANNIE, IF WE DID TELL THEM ALL OUR FACTS AND FIGURES, THE PAPERS MIGHT PRINT THE STORIES-THEN EVERYBODY IN TH' WORLD WOULD KNOW ALL OUR SECRETS---AND THERE ARE A EEW THINGS, ANNIE, THAT I'D LIKE TO KEEP AS A LITTLE SURPRISE---FOR CERTAIN PARTIES-

RITES FRIDAY

Military Services To Be Held at Mansfield Cemetery.

Funeral services for Captain Robert W. Stephenson, 67, a veteran of the Spanish-American and the World Wars, will be held at the Finefrock funeral home, Friday at 2:30 p. m.

Capt. Stephenson died early Wednesday morning at the family home, 140 West Dickson avenue.

Rev. David N. Roller, will be in charge of the services. The American Legion will conduct military rites at the grave in Mansfield cemetery. Legion members will be pallbearers.

Capt. Stephenson, a former Commander of the Mansfield McVey Post of the American Legion during the years 1920-21 was active in many organizations.

He was a member of Mansfield Lodge No. 35 F. and A. M., Mansfield Chapter No. 28; Mansfield Council No. 94; Mansfield Commandery No. 21, Knights Templar; McVey Post American Legion and the Spanish-American War Veterans.

Capt. Stephenson is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Walker Stephenson; one daughter, Mrs. Mary M. Rose, of Wooster; one sister, Mrs. Harry Wait, of Burnside, Ky.; and one brother, Harry T. Graham, of Mansfield.

ASK $46,953 IN DAMAGE ACTIONS

Chicagoans Sue After Traffic Crash Near City.

A Chicago couple today had filed damage actions total $46,953 in Richland county common pleas court against Roger Au, Mansfield contractor, contending that his truck figured in a collision in which they were injured.

Plaintiffs in the suits are James A. Fitch and his wife, Eunice, who were injured last Dec. 11 in a crash at the intersection of route 42 and Cook road south of Mansfield. Mrs. Fitch asks a judgment for $30,000 for a fractured leg, fractured ribs, and scalp injuries while Fitch seeks $16,953 for lesser injuries. The actions were filed by Attys. Henkel and Gongwer.

Harvill Strike Pickets Block Plant Entrance

Major Pacific coast airplane plants may be forced to shut down by the end of the month because of a strike of 350 CIO employes at the Harvill Aircraft Die Casting corporation in Inglewood, Cal., according to company officials, who said that an extended strike at the plant would cut off the flow of vital materials to the plane manufacturers. Pickets are shown above as they used railroad ties and an automobile to block the entrance to the Harvill plant. Negotiations are under way to end the dispute.

WHAT MAKES A GOOD COAL GOOD?
Every ounce of CABIN BLOCK COAL is clean and pure and so hard that the slack and dust nuisance is eliminated. There is never a clinker . . . consuming its own gasses and leaving a small amount of ash (less than three per cent).
CABIN BLOCK makes a good fire in 30 minutes; it will hold fire for 70 to 100 hours; you can leave home Friday morning, return Monday and find fire still in the furnace.
CABIN BLOCK is a fuel so marvelously perfect that it is exclusive; nowhere else is there a coal better than CABIN BLOCK.

"Praises Bee Bee's For Marvelous Relief From Kidney, Prostate Trouble"
Local Man declares he suffered much agony for 4 years with pains in hips, legs, and back. Now feels 100% better after taking Bee Bee's.
Mr. J. C. Fulton, 64 years of age, 175 South Main street, Camden, Ohio, declares:
"I am a traveling salesman and I have to drive a lot in all kinds of weather. This driving has bothered my kidneys for the past four years. My condition was worse in cold weather.
"I was dizzy all the time and my loss of vitality and sleep made me so cross and disagreeable. My nights were broken up by getting up so many times. Some nights I would have to arise 8 times. Now that I have taken Bee Bee's I have to arise only once at night, and sometimes not at all. Two years ago I had to have my urine drawn by a doctor. I had terrible pains in my back and over my right hip and over my right kidney. It was hard for me to straighten up on account of the pains. My right leg would become numb and cold and I would have to swing it to get the circulation started. The neck of my bladder would burn and sometimes I couldn't urinate for five or ten minutes. Now since I have taken bee Bee's I feel fine and sleep well. I have many friends in Piqua, and Middletown, Ohio and nearby places and I will recommend Bee Bee's to them and every one who suffers as I have.

TREE PRIZE IN GARDEN CONTEST

Awards for Annual Competition Among Pupils in City Schools Planned.

Mansfield schools will compete for a live tree this year instead of a plaque in the annual Brinkerhoff garden contest, as a result of a recommendation of Mrs. A. M. Colby, chairman of the Mansfield Garden club award committee.

Since 1934 the prize for the school with the largest percentage of pupils completing their garden projects has been a plaque which became the permanent possession of the school winning it three consecutive years.

Last year the Prospect school won the plaque the third time, leaving the way open for a change in the awards.

Beginning this year, the winning school will receive a flowering tree which will be planted on the school ground.

The garden contest awards are provided through a fund set up by the late Gen. Roeliff Brinkerhoff who asked in his will that the interest from a $1,000 fund be used for the purpose.

Scores of pupils compete in the contest every summer for cash prizes amounting to $50. The tree will be awarded in addition to the individual prizes.

Simpson Pupils Hold Dance In Gymnasium Friday

Pupils of John Simpson Junior high schools eighth grade will hold a dance, the "Shamrock Shuffle" in the gymnasium Friday from 8 to 11 p. m.

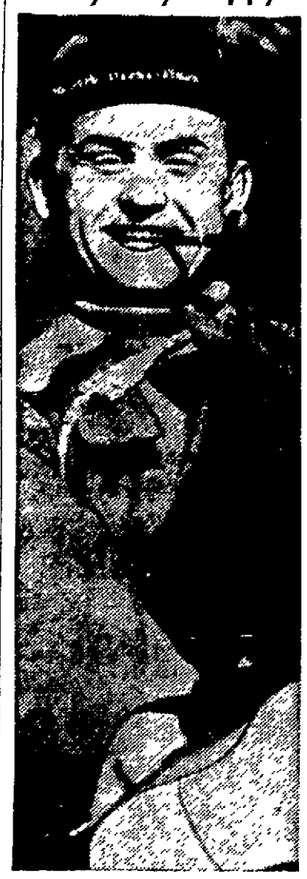
The program will consist of dancing and entertainment by the Irish quintet.

Members of the dance committees are Patricia Pugh, publicity; Anna Jean Stauffer, tickets; Earl Rudolph, entertainment; Jack Guy, Wilbur Kennedy, Roland Schmidt, Earl Rudolph and Ivan Wallington, decorations.

Advisor to the group is Miss Mary Elizabeth Gracy. Chaperons at the dance will be Misses Hazel Craig, Ruth Craig and Homer Sims, Chester Robinson, Daniel B. Haber and Wilbur S. Edwards.

Winston Churchill himself built the brick wall which surrounds his home, Chartwell, in Kent.

Everybody Happy?



The war is over for him and his country's African empire is crumbling, but this captured Italian sailor seems very happy about it all as he puffs on his pipe and cocks his feet on a table top. He was captured by the British forces and put in a prison camp.

COMES TO CITY AS 'DYNAMO' FOR MUSIC DRIVE

New Yorker In Mansfield For Fourth Time To Assist In Membership Campaign.

Dynamo of Mansfield Civic Music association's membership campaign, is vivacious brown-haired Mercedes Walker from Civic Music's New York headquarters now in Mansfield to assist the association with its fifth annual membership campaign.

This is the fourth time that Mrs. Walker has been in Mansfield during association membership week and it is largely due to her impetus that campaign workers carry their annual drives to such a successful completion.

"I make it a habit to remember names," she said, when asked how she could possibly remember the names of all the people she greeted at campaign headquarters in the Ohio Fuel Gas company office.

"Coming to Mansfield season after season has given me a wide acquaintance here," she said, "but I make a point of remembering names wherever I go."

Mrs. Walker has been with the Civic Concert Service for eight seasons and this is the first time that she was within proximity of Mansfield when the time came for her engagement here. Once she made the jump from Florida and another time from England. This week she came here from Canton where she had successfully conducted a drive.

"Mansfield," said Mrs. Walker, "is one of about one thousand cities successfully using the Civic Music plan."

She expressed herself as highly pleased at the way in which the Mansfield association has doubled its membership in four years. To sustain this membership, she said it was necessary to retain the present membership and add new members in case of vacancy.

Among the Ohio cities using the plan Mrs. Walker listed Dayton, Lima, Sandusky, Findlay, Marion and Portsmouth.

"There has been much interest manifest in bringing a symphony to Mansfield next year," Mrs. Walker said in mentioning the availability of artists for the 1941-42 season.

"Musically speaking," she continued, "Europe's loss is America's gain. Internationally famous artists have come to these shores since the war to delight audiences. Then too, students no longer have to go to Italy or Germany to get the advantages of studying under famous masters."

"In a world where fatalism is rampant," declared Mrs. Walker, "where a live-today-tomorrow-we die spirit is stronger than a spirit of long-range planning, the relaxation and spiritual pleasures afforded by truly fine music are recognized as never before by the masses."

Membership in the local association is open to the public Mrs. Walker pointed out as long as there is an available seat in the auditorium. The campaign closes Saturday at 9 p. m. and anyone desiring further information regarding the plan of membership is encouraged to come to the office in the Ohio Fuel Gas company or telephone Canal 1318.

In City for Civic Music Drive

Shown here at her desk as she assists in directing the Civic Music association's membership drive is Mrs. Mercedes Walker of Civic Music's New York headquarters. This is the fourth season that Mrs. Walker has come to Mansfield to aid the association in their annual drive. She will be here through Saturday night when the member drive ends.

DRAFT BOARD MEMBER TALKS

Flory Tells Co-Op Club of Tasks of Selective Service.

Stating that the selective service boards worked conscientiously to place men in their proper classifications, E. C. Flory, member of Selective Service board No. 2, spoke at a meeting of the Cooperative club last night at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Citing illustrations of the work of the board to obtain reliable information to properly classify registrants, Flory then outlined the procedure in handling the questionnaires of a prespective selectee.

New members admitted to the club at the meeting were Gilmore Hiett and Henry Lytle.

J. J. Kindell, president of the club, was in charge of the meeting.

LAPEER, Mich.—(U.P.)—With termination of the 1940 school year, Miss Veva Butts retired here as a school teacher with a 43-year record of never having missed a class because of illness.

EXPAND SOURCE OF MANGANESE

U. S. Defense Experts Get Metal From Montana and Cuban Ores.

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—The nation's defense economy is bringing sources of supply of the "precious" manganese ore nearer to the steel industry of the United States.

In peace time, steel makers obtained this metal from Russia, Africa, British India and Brazil. Their ships plied the ocean, delivering steel and bringing back manganese along with many another exotic product needed by American industry.

Now Russia is cut off and shipping from the Far East and Africa is precarious even if ships are obtainable.

Two methods are being pursued to bring the sources closer, namely, development of domestic ores which are found in fair amounts in Arkansas, Georgia, Montana, Tennessee, and in several other states in small amounts, and exploitation of Latin American mines, principally in Cuba. In addition, the steel makers and the government have been stocking up on manganese for some time and it is reported unofficially that the nation has more than a year's supply on hand.

Great hopes are held for the Cuban development. History of that ore body dates back to Spanish-American war days when John Greenway, one of the Theodore Roosevelt's Rough Riders, kicked a piece of the ore and remarked to his companion David M. Goodrich, now head of the rubber company that bears his name, that some day Cuba might furnish manganese to American steel mills.

Cuban-American Manganese Corporation and Cuban American Mining company have steadily stepped up their production of manganese. They were awarded a contract by the government to furnish 25,000 of the first 30,000 tons of manganese purchased under federal legislation to provide stock-piles of strategic materials for national defense. Cuban manganese enters the United States duty free.

TREE PRIZE IN GARDEN CONTEST

Awards for Annual Competition Among Pupils in City Schools Planned.

Mansfield schools will compete for a live tree this year instead of a plaque in the annual Brinkerhoff garden contest, as a result of a recommendation of Mrs. A. M. Colby, chairman of the Mansfield Garden club award committee.

Since 1934 the prize for the school with the largest percentage of pupils completing their garden projects has been a plaque which became the permanent possession of the school winning it three consecutive years.

Last year the Prospect school won the plaque the third time, leaving the way open for a change in the awards.

Beginning this year, the winning school will receive a flowering tree which will be planted on the school ground.

The garden contest awards are provided through a fund set up by the late Gen. Roeliff Brinkerhoff who asked in his will that the interest from a $1,000 fund be used for the purpose.

Scores of pupils compete in the contest every summer for cash prizes amounting to $50. The tree will be awarded in addition to the individual prizes.

Simpson Pupils Hold Dance In Gymnasium Friday

Pupils of John Simpson Junior high schools eighth grade will hold a dance, the "Shamrock Shuffle" in the gymnasium Friday from 8 to 11 p. m.

The program will consist of dancing and entertainment by the Irish quintet.

Members of the dance committees are Patricia Pugh, publicity; Anna Jean Stauffer, tickets; Earl Rudolph, entertainment; Jack Guy, Wilbur Kennedy, Roland Schmidt, Earl Rudolph and Ivan Wallington, decorations.

Advisor to the group is Miss Mary Elizabeth Gracy. Chaperons at the dance will be Misses Hazel Craig, Ruth Craig and Homer Sims, Chester Robinson, Daniel B. Haber and Wilbur S. Edwards.

Winston Churchill himself built the brick wall which surrounds his home, Chartwell, in Kent.

Everybody Happy?

The war is over for him and his country's African empire is crumbling, but this captured Italian sailor seems very happy about it all as he puffs on his pipe and cocks his feet on a table top. He was captured by the British forces and put in a prison camp

COMES TO CITY AS 'DYNAMO' FOR MUSIC DRIVE

New Yorker In Mansfield For Fourth Time To Assist In Membership Campaign.

Dynamo of Mansfield Civic Music association's membership campaign is vivacious brown-haired Mercedes Walker from Civic Music's New York headquarters now in Mansfield to assist the association with its fifth annual membership campaign.

This is the fourth time that Mrs. Walker has been in Mansfield during association membership week and it is largely due to her impetus that campaign workers carry their annual drives to such a successful completion.

"I make it a habit to remember names," she said, when asked how she could possibly remember the names of all the people she greeted at campaign headquarters in the Ohio Fuel Gas company office.

"Coming to Mansfield season after season has given me a wide acquaintance here," she said, "but I make a point of remembering names wherever I go."

Mrs. Walker has been with the Civic Concert Service for eight seasons and this is the first time that she was within proximity of Mansfield when the time came for her engagement here. Once she made the jump from Florida and another time from England. This week she came here from Canton where she had successfully conducted a drive.

"Mansfield," said Mrs. Walker, "is one of about one thousand cities successfully using the Civic Music plan."

She expressed herself as highly pleased at the way in which the Mansfield association has doubled its membership in four years. To sustain this membership, she said it was necessary to retain the present membership and add new members in case of vacancy.

Among the Ohio cities using the plan Mrs. Walker listed Dayton, Lima, Sandusky, Findlay, Marion and Portsmouth.

"There has been much interest manifest in bringing a symphony to Mansfield next year," Mrs. Walker said in mentioning the availability of artists for the 1941-42 season.

"Musically speaking," she continued, "Europe's loss is America's gain. Internationally famous artists have come to these shores since the war to delight audiences. Then too, students no longer have to go to Italy or Germany to get the advantages of studying under famous masters."

"In a world where fatalism is rampant," declared Mrs. Walker, "where a live-today-tomorrow-we die spirit is stronger than a spirit of long-range planning, the relaxation and spiritual pleasures afforded by truly fine music are recognized as never before by the masses."

Membership in the local association is open to the public Mrs. Walker pointed out as long as there is an available seat in the auditorium. The campaign closes Saturday at 9 p. m. and anyone desiring further information regarding the plan of membership is encouraged to come to the office in the Ohio Fuel Gas company or telephone Canal 1318.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, MARCH 20, 1941

In case you want to be watching, Spring is scheduled to arrive at 7:21 this evening—weather permitting.

People are warned against letting the politicians fool them—but isn't that just a little too much to expect?

Benjamin Franklin is said to have been the first person to suggest daylight saving—and he also had some odd notions about saving money.

Mediation Board May Be Solution

DECISION must be made on one vital issue before the United States can have any real assurance of either succeeding in its own defense program or giving effective aid to Britain and other nations battling against the Axis powers.

That issue is whether or not a way can be found to settle labor controversies without resort to strikes such as are now playing havoc with orderly production of defense and "aid" equipment and many of the essential small parts needed to complete the larger units.

An earnest appeal for labor unification and co-operation was made by President Roosevelt in his most recent public address and the president yesterday named eleven members of a mediation board intended to perform conciliation service in labor disputes involving defense production.

This board will have no powers of compulsion but will attempt to adjust differences by arbitration in advance of strike action.

Appointees to the board represent the three vitally affected groups, labor, industry and the public, and the selections are such as to inspire confidence that sincere efforts will be made to serve the national welfare.

It cannot be doubted that the rank and file of those millions of American citizens who classify under the broad general term of "organized labor" are as deeply patriotic and loyal to their government as any other individuals or groups, yet the actions of some of them—and of their leaders—has been such as to arouse suspicion that advantage is being taken of what appears to be an opportunity to hamper the defense program at a time when unity is the keynote of national safety and preservation of the freedom and privileges which they enjoy.

Such jurisdictional strikes as that which has been delaying progress of important defense work at Wright Air Field, Dayton, and others which involve controversies between competing labor organizations, would provoke just criticism under ordinary conditions and become intolerable in the face of dangers which now confront this country. Likewise the threats of coal and steel strikes on April 1, unless demands of labor leaders are met.

Some way must be found to eliminate the strike menace in basic and defense industries, else all the billions of dollars which it is proposed to spend, and the work of training young men for possible military service, will be useless—made so by the acts of a small minority of workers under bad leadership.

President Roosevelt's idea of establishing a mediation board, with provision for a lapse of time before workers may go out on strike in industries having any part in defense production, obviously represents the best thought of the president and his advisors. There should be no need, in a democracy, to exercise the compulsion which the present emergency would require in the event of failure of the National Defense Mediation Board to accomplish its intended purposes.

England Finds Time To Play

THE MOST reassuring news from Britain lately told of the football game in London last Saturday. It was played before 2,000 spectators, by a fine team of English professionals and amateurs from the British army, against an allied team of French, Polish, Belgian, Dutch and Czechoslovakian stars.

The bombing fortunately stopped just before the time scheduled for the game, and the exits were left open so that anybody could get out if it got too hot for him. "Spotters" who were kept on the job to report Nazi trouble above had nothing to do. Children and their parents thronged around the refreshment stands and consumed large quantities of tea and rolls. Everybody had a fine time

When a nation fighting desperately for its life can relax in this way, it has steady nerves. "The playing fields of Eton" vindicate themselves again.

Life of Service Ends

SO QUIETLY did Captain Robert W. Stephenson pursue the even tenor of his way that many persons who have come to Mansfield in recent years were not privileged to know him.

"Cap" Stephenson, as he was familiarly known, was a type of good citizen which is of inestimable community value. His patriotism was evidenced by service in two wars and his military training obviously influenced his entire later life, which was marked by willingness to serve in any capacity to which he was called.

In the military organizations with which he was affiliated, his fraternal associations and church activities, "Cap" Stephenson could always be depended upon to conscientiously and capably share in the work to be done—and, possibly best of all, those who were his friends never doubted the firmness of his friendship.

Those who knew "Cap" Stephenson well are inclined to accord him the title of "gentleman," in the finest sense in which that word can be used.

Encouraging Young Musicians

BEARDSTOWN, ILL., hears a lot of music in March. Last Saturday more than 1,000 instrumental and vocal soloists from fifty-five high schools in fourteen counties began a district contest. On March 27, 28, 29, about 3,000 musicians in bands and choruses from the same schools have a contest in their special musical field. Similar contests take place in other parts of the country at various times.

This is one reason why symphony orchestras, pianists, concert givers generally, are playing to steadily growing audiences. Excellent public school education in music is developing patrons in large numbers.

[illegible] is another hopeful thought. From such education will come much creative work in music, so that America, which has made few important contributions of this kind in the past, may one day add worthily to the great music of the world.

Storms Do a Job!

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

BEATING it down from the ranch today in the teeth of a 70-mile wind and racing walls of rain. Wow! What a storm! If you think the High Sierra can't put on Sound Effects when it starts heaving, you've plenty to learn, stranger.

All night the great pines had roared, thrashing in a bellowing, black surf against green glares of lightning. All night the waters shouted, heaving themselves headlong over the rocks . . . cutting new channels through the soft, mountain soil. With the steady drum-drum-drumming of the rain beating on the roof, and the wind yammering like a banshee against the window pane.

Come morning, the world was a wild wash of streaming mist and scudding cloud, tossing like banners against the snow-capped peaks. No weather for folks to go rolling down across a flooded state with the climate gone coo-coo. But roll we did, for Quentin Reynolds, just back from England, was going to speak. And never have I known a smarter or a harder hitting article than that amiable, soft-smiling redhead. And what's a little thing like 300—400—maybe 500 miles if you can feel the pulse of your times?

So we toddled the Big Baby out, headed her into the scud and side-swooped as if we'd been hit by a double-jack. You think, perhaps, you've seen storms? Just wait until one thousand miles of wide open space lands on you with all toe-nails spread! You'll know you've been places, then!

Down the ranch road, with the water splitting in great wings on either side of us and the rain making a monkey of the windshield wipers. Across the creek and over the hill, taking a beating every yard of the way. And we weren't the only ones.

Branches lay across the road, dead wood from thousands of trees. Sickly young growth lay with those branches, and crumbling old hulks. Not in years had the forest had such a house cleaning. Thickets that had been one solid tangle showed cleared aisles of clean trunks. Leaning trunks, that had been a menace for years beside the highway, were gone. Many a fine, upstanding giant was gone, too—because his roots had been rotten all along.

And, sitting there, plugging leaks to keep out the battering rain . . . getting ready to jump when the wind swung us, end to, on the slathery clay . . . I did some thinking.

Storms, they weren't what a home-loving body would pick for a social amusement. Did plenty of damage. Spoiled a lot of scenery. And yet storms certainly had their points. They cleaned things up. Wiped out a lot of trash. Did more in 24 hours than a regiment of men and tractors could do in a month. Maybe things didn't look so pretty when a storm was over, but they certainly were rejuvenated, ready for a fresh start. Yes, storms did a job.

Then abruptly another thought hit me with a tougher joit than the wind. Why didn't we humans let our storms do a job on us as the forest did? Why were we always trying to duck grief and turmoil, even when we'd asked for it? Why were we so sure that peace and pleasantness were the best things for us?

Perhaps we too needed to have our dead wood knocked off, the dead wood of our complacency, stupidity and conceit. Perhaps we too needed to have the weakling growths of childishness and cowardice yanked from our natures—even though it might leave empty stretches of heartache for a while. Perhaps we need wild waters of grief to cut new channels . . . clear new vistas. Perhaps we even need to be knocked flat so we may learn at least how feeble the roots were which upheld our impressive front . . . roots of hidden cowardice and stupidity.

Maybe the best thing that could happen to the average man is a helluva good storm once in a while—a storm which he can't duck—something that will really do a job on him.

Maybe!

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Sunday, March 20, 1921.

Curtis E. McBride, Mansfield attorney, spoke at meeting in Y. M. C. A. assembly hall in Crestline.

Judge and Mrs. Lewis Brucker arrived home from Florida trip.

Palm Sunday was observed with special services in a number of Mansfield churches.

Birth report: Son to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaufman, 233 West Sixth street.

Miss Margery Young was chosen as one of the commencement speakers at Ohio university, Athens.

Clay Lutheran church, five miles north of Mansfield, was re-dedicated after having been moved onto new foundation.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Friday, March 20, 1936.

Howard O. Stickrod, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stickrod, 263 Park avenue east, was graduated from Ohio State university.

Louis Arting, 60, died.

Miss Bette Jeanne Horner, 42 Parkwood boulevard, left for a visit in New York City, and for a piano audition at a musical school there.

Mrs. A. L. Martin, 158 West Third street, celebrated birthday anniversary with a family party at her home.

Announcement was made of marriage of Miss Lillian McDonald and Harry McBride, solemnized at Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 19.

Miss Mary Phelps was elected president of the Lawyers' Secretaries.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Rutgers college located in New Brunswick, N. J., was chartered on March 20, 1770. It was originally called Queens college, but changed its name in 1825, when it was renamed in honor of Henry Rutgers, whose gift to the college enabled it to reopen.

Health And Diet

More Answers To Health Questions.

—By DR. CLENDENING

A. M. S.:—"Is it necessary to eat a quarter of a pound of raw liver a day for anemia, and will apricots take the place of the raw liver for this disease?"

Answer — The correct amount of liver to eat for pernicious anemia is one-half pound a day. Apricots have nothing to do with the case. I don't know where you could have picked up this piece of misinformation. Apricots don't take the place of liver and have no effect an anemia. If liver itself is distasteful it can be replaced with liver extract, which can be taken in capsule form and does not, therefore, become as monotonous as a diet.

C. M.:—"I eat a lot of bread and milk. I like it so much I could live on it. Do you advise me to continue? I also drink a lot."

Answer—Bread and milk alone is not a complete diet, although it is nearly so. It does not contain any roughage, is lacking in iron and likely to be lacking in Vitamins C and D. It is a common thing to find people who "drink a great deal" living on just such insufficient diets as this, which sometimes leads to the vitamin deficiency diseases.

E. M.:—"My little grandchild seems to walk with her toes inward. Is this just a habit that she will grow out of or should something be done about it?"

Answer — Most children when they walk barefooted are slightly pigeon-toed, but one should not depend on this but should have consultation with an orthopedic surgeon to see that there is not a dangerous or exaggerated condition of pigeon-toe. It can usually be corrected by proper shoes or braces.

M. M.:—"I would like to know what effect chlorinated water has on a person's hair. I go swimming about three times a week and our tanks are chlorinated."

Answer—According to a dermatologist whom I have consulted, there is no dangerous effect from chlorinated water on the hair.

Timely Editorial

Spare Athens and Rome.

England's warning to Germany and Italy that RAF planes will bomb Rome if Axis planes bomb Athens foreshadows possible annihilation of ancient arts and glories the world has preserved throughout known history. Both cities should be spared, just as Paris was spared, and in return for England's promise to keep bombs out of Rome, both Germany and Italy ought to be willing to leave Athens in peace.

England has leaned backwards a long way in her bombings, for even though Italian planes have joined German craft in dropping high explosives and incendiaries on London, the British have not retaliated against Rome.

This war will never be won by indiscriminate bombing of non-military objects. Already too many bombs have fallen where they served no purpose, except to destroy. They did not crush the morale of the people and they did not slow down the opposition.

Farm Relief In Lease-Lend Act, Britain to Get Huge Surpluses

—By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — During debate on the lease-lend bill, Senator Murray of Montana came up to the vice president's dais and whispered in Henry Wallace's ear. The bill, he said, ought to contain a provision whereby Britain would buy or borrow farm products as well as armaments.

Vice President Wallace replied that he thought so too, but had not felt it necessary to "spell it out" in the bill. However, he mentioned the matter to Senate Floor Leader Barkley, who offered an amendment to the lease-lend bill.

This was the simple mechanics whereby the biggest farm purchase plan since the last war was started.

Most people don't realize it, but the lease-lend act makes the United States not only the arsenal for Great Britain, but also her granary, packing house and slaughter house.

A total of $1,300,000,000 has been allocated out of the seven billions for British defense—most of which will bring sorely needed help to the farmer. For while industrial regions have prospered in this war, the farmer so far has not.

In the last war not only England, but France, Italy and the Scandinavian countries, even Russia needed wheat and cotton. Farm prices zoomed. But in this war all these areas except England have been cut off from American markets by the British blockade.

As a result, farm prices are low and surpluses mounting. We have a corn carry-over four times normal, or 700,000,000 bushels. The wheat carry-over is 400,000,000 bushels; while the government has 11,000,000 bales of cotton under loan or wholly owned, plus 372,000,000 pounds of tobacco, 2,735,000 pounds of surplus butter, 3,609,009 dozen surplus eggs, 37,000,000 pounds of surplus vegetables and 25,000,000 pounds of surplus fruit. In other words, the ever-normal granary is not normal at all. It is full and running over.

Livestock Products.

SALES—or loans—to England will be chiefly in livestock products such as canned pork, dried eggs, evaporated milk, lard and cheese, which England once got from Poland, Denmark, and Holland, but doesn't any more.

Agriculture department experts who have been studying the question don't expect the British to ask for wheat or corn. England gets all it needs from the Dominions. But they figure that British purchases of livestock products, such as pork, will greatly help the price of corn and be a great boon to the corn belt.

Whether or not the British will pay for this later or make some kind of a swap, has not been decided yet. The matter is entirely up to the president, and he has kept completely mum on the subject.

Note—Man at the head of the farm-products-for-Britain program is Milo Perkins, a dynamic young Texan, who as administrator of surplus marketing already is an expert on getting rid of Uncle Sam's perpetual excess crops.

Health In Congress.

GENIAL Congressman Sol Bloom celebrated his 71st birthday about the same time he helped bring the lend-lease bill to final conclusion and he went around the Capitol kicking up his heels and crying, "To hell with vitamins!"

"Health is all a matter of circulation,' 'opined Sol, lapsing into a rhapsodic account of the old days when he was a prize fight promoter, and they used to fight 60 and 70 rounds. "That was real fighting," says Sol.

"Now about circulation, tell you what to do. When you take off your shoes at night, rub your feet. Get 'em limbered up. Then rub your knees. Circulation, see? And then turn your head this way and that, easy.

"It's all circulation. Some garters prevent circulation. Now look at me." Sol pulls up his trousers in the Capitol lobby to show a garterless sock.

"And if you wear a collar button at the back, throw it away. It's bad. Presses on the neck. Prevents circulation.

"I'm 71, but I can stand on one foot, without putting the other one down, for fifteen minutes—maybe more." And just to prove it, the congressman from New York demonstrated in the middle of the corridor, while passing senators jostled by and nearly knocked him off balance.

Congressman Bloom's recipe must work, for despite hours of congressional battling and half a lifetime in the hurly-burly of the theatrical business, he remains as spry as ever.

British Real Estate.

WASHINGTON real estate owners have every reason to be pro-British, for the expansion of British office space in the Capital has been their greatest godsend.

Though already occupying space in five buildings, the British Purchasing Commission has now taken over a new building at a downtown location—15th and M Streets. It was recently sold for $165,000. Now the buyer turns around and rents it to the British for $40,000 a year, which means he may get his money back in four years.

Other buildings being used by the purchasing commission are the Adams building, the Hibbs building, the building at 1518 K street, Andrew Mellon's old apartment house on Massachusetts avenue, and a whole floor of the Willard hotel. They have found the Willard space uneconomical, because "there are too many bathrooms."

In addition the British embassy (distinct from the purchasing commission) has overflowed into a new annex, built last summer, and is now building an extension of the Chancery, to provide 18 additional rooms. Also, they have taken over the Wardman residence below the Rock Creek bridge off Massachusetts avenue, to provide quarters for the information and press section.

Merry-Go-Round.

AN ARTICLE in the Harvard Law Review by Julius Stone, Harry Hopkins' former assistant, on revision of private law has attracted so much favorable attention that the senate judiciary committee will invite him to appear and expound his proposed reforms . . . Colorado's Representative Edward T. Taylor, 83 years old, is the wordiest man in the Congressional Directory. His personally penned biography, over 650 words long, takes up almost an entire page. Unlike 84-year-old Senator Carter Glass, who does not give the year of his birth, Taylor makes no secret of his . . . There are many wags in the state department, but only one who wears the name—Alfred Wagg III. He handles refugees . . . In the government, even a Rockefeller is crowded for office space. Often in the state department, you can see young Nelson Rockefeller in a huddle in the hall discussing Latin American cultural relations, because his office is overflowing with assistants.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—A friend of ours who spends a good part of her time browsing through art galleries was in the Grand Central galleries, No. 15 Vanderbilt Ave., recently, waiting for a friend who was a few minutes late, and she found herself unexpectedly in a room where four men were huddled in conference off to one side.

She didn't even know they were there until she heard a masculine voice say, "Let's throw out the impossible ones first."

Just a wee bit startled, her first inclination was to retreat, but she stood her ground, and gradually the meaning of this recommendation made itself clear.

"All right, here's one that's impossible—let's throw it out," another of the men said.

"And this one," a third member chimed in.

What was happening was that a jury of four had gathered to select the winner in an exhibition given by art students. The winner was to be rewarded with a check for $500 and an assignment to paint the portrait of Eleanor Roosevelt.

THE judges at first had been a bit hesitant as to how the selection should be made. It was then that one of them suggested "Let's throw out the impossible ones first."

After the impossible ones had been consigned to ignominy the four then went into another huddle and discussed ways and means of arriving at a just choice.

"I like this one," one of them said.

"So do I."

"That one with the blue feathers is nice too."

"But don't you think we'd better have another look at that portrait in the corner?"

"Maybe you're right."

THE winnowing went on from there, and so did our friend, who about that time was joined by her tardy companion, and they proceeded to an exhibition in another section of the gallery.

Two hours later, however, passing that way again, our friend was surprised to see the room a mass of spectators. And standing in front of the portrait of a lady with an evening gown stood a young man bursting with pride.

His name was Darrel Brown, and he was the winner.

Probably he was already spending that $500, and rehearsing the things he would say to the First Lady when she came to pose for him.

The last our friend saw of Mr. Brown he was still standing there, gazing at his handiwork, the whole mystic riddle of success in the hollow of his hand.

A Farmer's Diary

The Meadow Lark

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

AT SUN-UP this morning, I heard what I have listened for for many days—the sweet note of the meadow lark. No early spring morning is quite complete without that flute-like liquid note. It seems to bear a poignant meaning that one feels but cannot put into words.

It rose from the frozen grass of the field, and another answering strain echoed from the hill. At last I saw him, perched upon a fence post, while his mate flew up from the meadow sod against the morning sun.

The day was typically March. Clouds obscured the sky. By noon the air was full of moisture. By midafternoon stray snowflakes rode upon the fickle wind. Before the day had darkened into night the ground was covered.

Yet, as I drove home from town, I heard the call of a solitary meadow lark and just by chance, saw his drab back and wings rise dark against the whiteness of the field. His greenish yellow breast appears new and glossy in contrast with the falling flakes.

He stood so deep his feathers trailed in the snow, but he was undaunted, and sang again so that his song seemed to lift the gloom of the coming dusk. His bed tonight will be a lonely thatch of grass where the storm will beat and where a weasel or skunk may come upon his resting place. Tomorrow his source of food supply will lie buried too deep for him to find.

The migratory urge has sent him forth an innocent sufferer before the land is warm and habitable.

Yet, there he stands, this modest minstrel of the grass, and gives voice to a note of faith and promise, so sweet that a human being can scarcely listen to it without a thrill of genuine delight.

CITIES WARNED OF PYRAMIDING FOR DEFENSES

Council For Democracy Sees Overbuilding as Menace To Communities.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—Cities seeking defense contracts have been warned by the Council for Democracy not to expand production facilities indiscriminately if they want to escape the fate of World war "ghost towns."

The advice is contained in a memorandum drawn up for the council by representatives of communities, the National Defense Commission, and educational organizations, and designed to give communities practical guidance in meeting defense problems.

The memorandum recommends formation of councils representing all local groups to direct community energy into constructive channels instead of into plans "to hunt submarines, to shoot parachutists and to evacuate cats in case of bombing."

"The community that has become a 'bulge town' doesn't want to find itself a 'ghost town' when the emergency is over," the council warns, urging moderation and community guidance in expansion of facilities.

Service by Pooling.

"Small concerns with perhaps a dozen machine tools and 25 skilled workmen cannot get much of a hearing from large contractors, because their facilities are to limited. But if a few small concerns in a community pool their resources then a primary contractor may be glad to take notice of, say, 100 available machines and 150 workmen."

The council cited the following advantages for the co-operative farming-out system:

1—Existing facilities are fully utilized and no time is lost in constructing new plants and equipment.

2—Local labor is employed and eases the problem of what to do with the workers when the emergency is over.

3—There is no shortage created in housing, school facilities or relief funds by an influx of new labor.

4—In event of bombing attacks, scattered small industrial plants assure continued production.

Efforts to bring new industries into the community, the council declares, "ought to be in accord with a wise and thorough policy conducive to all-round industrial growth and stability and to all-around community welfare in the future." It warns strongly against holding out to industry the lure of cheap labor, tax concessions, bonuses or free land.

Labor Safeguards Urged.

Estimating that from four to six million more new jobs will open up in the next year, the council advises communities to:

1—Survey local labor supply and demand.

2—Urge workers to check with employment offices before moving to avoid wasteful migration of labor.

3—Institute a long-term training program, 'imperative now in the light of the whole defense effort and also of future peacetime needs.

4—Avoid labor-baiting and strike breaking which, "instead of safeguarding production produce a depressed morale on the part of those who bear the major burden of defense in the form of rising prices and who are generally the first to be asked to make sacrifices in the name of the crisis."

OFFICIAL SAYS TRAIN CARRIED 2 SPECIAL CARS

Passed Spot Where Limited Met Disaster 20 Minutes Later, Killing 5.

two successive major train crashes. At Ravenna, O., 300 of 700 workers at the Ravenna arsenal were injured Tuesday when their train was struck by an Erie railroad freight train. Yesterday, at Spartanburg, S. C., six railroad employes were killed in a head-on collision of two southern railroad freight trains.)

W. M. Scheiber, conductor on the Manhattan, a 13-car train with two locomotives, said the foreign officials occupied two special cars on his train. He explained:

"I understand they were Russian diplomats or engineers. We had no message on them. There were no shipments of unusual value.

"On the rear, there was one sleeper with boys in uniform. They weren't CCC boys."

Scheiber's sensational disclosure came at the interstate commerce commission's hearing into the crash.

Sabotage was apparent to railroad officials from the first hectic moments following the Cleveland-Pittsburgh train's fatal plunge during a near-blizard 20 miles northwest of Pittsburgh.

Authorities, however, drew no further conclusions. Whether today's testimony meant that the relentless rivalry between Soviet Russia's Stalinist regime and Trotskyite followers had broken out in this manner, whether the current war crisis may have played any part therein, or whether the wreck was the work of a "railroad hater" remained to be seen.

Earlier today, a railroad-employed diver at the scene of the wreck recovered a wrench believed to have been used in removing bolts from rail plates at the fatal spot. Sunday night, investigators — which now include FBI, ICC, state and local authorities—found a claw bar and another wrench which the railroad said had been used in removing a 30-foot rail.

Scheiber testified that he noticed "nothing unusual" as the Manhattan passed through Baden. The train was on No. 1 track eastbound over the same rails from which the Buckeye was hurled.

Two of the Buckeye's cars went into the Ohio river, the others scattering themselves at the river's edge and at the brink of the 40-foot embankment.

Scheiber estimated that the Manhattan was going 45 to 50 miles an hour. Frank R. Rex, eastern division superintendent, questioning witnesses at the ICC hearing, said he would place the speed "closer to 60 miles."

The Buckeye itself was said to have been traveling under an "all-clear" signal at 60 miles an hour when the crash came.

Railroad officials pointed from the first that the saboteurs were careful in removing the rail so that bond wires controlling danger signals would not be broken.

WANT BROWDER

NEW YORK — (INS) — Earl Browder, former general secretary of the Communist party in the United States, today was under federal court order to surrender himself next Tuesday to begin serving the four-year prison term imposed on him more than a year ago for fraudulent use of an American passport.

BILL APPROVED

Measure Would Triple State Income From Racing.

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—The senate judiciary committee last night approved a horse racing bill by Sen. Grant P. Ward, R., Franklin, which is expected to triple the state's income from the sport.

The measure would give the state 3 per cent of all bets made at the tracks, compared with the present one and two per cent. Senator Ward said the state collected $123,000 last year.

the lease-lend bill fight, announced he would vote against the appropriation. He charged that its enactment would double taxes in the next year.

The informal cloakroom opinion, meanwhile, was that the $7,000,000,000 fund would get senate approval by an even better margin than 60-to-31 vote registered for the lease-lend bill.

The house vote yesterday showed 231 Democrats, 104 Republicans and one Farm Laborite for the appropriation. Recorded against it were six Democrats, 45 Republicans, three Progressives and one American Laborite.

had good previous records and none of them was held for a major offense this time. Some of them served several weeks in the county jail awaiting the jury's action. Kimmel and Palm were taken to jail last Dec. 1. All of them were released last night after the jury reported.

Markey was rejected at first because of his teeth, but county authorities said he had arranged to have the dental work done to get him into the army.

If any of the youths fail to get past the final physical examination at the Fort Hayes induction station they will be free of both the army and jail since there are no longer criminal charges against them. The army will not accept men who have been convicted of a crime.

FARMER HELD IN DYNAMITING

Blast Rocks Indiana Church, Four Injured.

LYONS, Ind. — (AP) — A Greene county farmer was held today in connection with a dynamite blast which shook the Free Methodist church here last night and injured four persons severely. Ten persons were hurt slightly and 40 others attending Lenten revival services were shaken.

Sheriff Charles Blanton and state police apprehended the man, described as a "resident of the Lyons community." His name was withheld.

The Rev. R. C. Eastham, pastor, attributed the act to retribution for attacks from the pulpit on "illegal business."

Knives Used In O. S. R. Escape

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson is shown above with the three vicious looking butcher knives and the home-made black jack with which three Mansfield reformatory inmates armed themselves before escaping last Thursday night. The trio of fugitives still had the weapons when they were captured Tuesday morning near Ripley, W. Va., by state police. Sheriff Robinson brought the knives and blackjack back with him yesterday morning when he returned with the prisoners. The youthes told him one of them was a meat-cutter at the reformatory and was able to get the knives.

REPORT JURY INDICTS TRIO

Charges Against O. S. R. Inmates Believed Included In 19 Secret Indictments.

shortly after the firse was discovered. Officers said he confessed starting the blaze to "get even with Henry Carew," the owner, who was in the house.

The jurors investigated 45 cases, freeing the defendants in 10 of them. Six youths who plan to join the army were among those released. Seventy-eight witnesses testified.

Others indicted openly by the jury and the charges against them are:

Harold Fletcher, non-support; Wayne Kiner, non-support; Charles Morton, removing mortgaged property; Sebastian Tescikler, non-support; Vergie Green and George Bibbs, operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent; Charles L. Beaver, breaking and entering; Albert Twyman, receiving stolen goods; Arnold Conn, robbery; Harry Simpson, non-support; William Henry Smith, breaking and entering; Victor Tucker, non-support; W. E. Weaver, forgery; Walter Carr, breaking and entering; Calvin Calhoun, cutting with intent to wound.

The grand jury recommended enlarging of women's quarters in the county jail, installation of a padded cell at the jail for violent mental patients, and general renovating of the interior of the jail building.

The jail formerly had a padded cell, but it was removed several years ago on the recommendation of a grand jury which found that mental patients committed to a state hospital were rarely kept in the jail overnight.

Since Richland county recently was placed in the Columbus hospital district, Sheriff Robinson said it will require more time to get patients accepted at the Columbus state hospital and it may be necessary to hold them overnight at the jail.

LONDON RAKED BY 10,000 FIRE BOMBS IN RAID

Dispatch Says Greeks Enter Tepeleni; British Claim Sinking of Two Ships.

50 U. S. destroyers were turned over to Britain last summer.

Commenting on developments in the Balkans the British Broadcasting corporation reported that Turkish Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu had informed a Greek newspaperman:

"We are rejoicing in your victories as if they were our own."

The foreign minister was quoted as saying Turkey and Greece would "have a common victory." Saracoglu had just returned from a conference in Cyprus with the British foreign secretary, Anthony Eden. The meeting was said to have "re-emphasized the complete identity of views which exists between their two governments."

On the African war front, the British reported RAF planes made a dive-bombing, machine-gunnifg attack on Italian troops clinging stubbornly to hills around the Cheren sector, in Eritrea. Hard fighting has raged there for more than a week.

Recapitulating the Libyan desert campaign, the British said Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's Imperial army of the Nile had set a "world's record for speed in action," killing or capturing "the whole army of 150,000 men" which Fascist Marshal Rodolfo Graziani had massed in North Africa for the invasion of Egypt.

Less than 2,000 British casualties were suffered, it was officially announced in London.

Premier Mussolini's high command reported artillery action predominated on the Albanian front, and asserted that in North Africa "our artillery at Giarabub"—a Libyan desert oasis which has been fiercely contested—"repeatedly pounded enemy forces attempting to approach our garrison."

"In East Africa, the battle of Cheren continues," the Fascist war bulletin said. "Despite previous losses and intense enemy air action, our troops counter-attacked at several points."

CARGO DOWN?

Rumor Axis Submarines Sink First Lease-Lend Shipment.

NEW YORK—(AP)—The official Italian radio in a broadcast heard today by CBS that "it is rumored at Gibraltar that the first cargo of war materials sent to Great Britain after the passing of the lend-lease bill has been sunk by Axis submarines."

President Announces Cancellation of Cleveland Air Show.

CLEVELAND—(U.P.)—A final decision not to attempt to hold the 1941 national air races here was announced today by L. W. Greve, president of the national air races of Cleveland, the sponsoring organization.

Unless arrangements can be made to hold the races in some other city it will be the second successive year that the demands of the national defense program have forced officials to call off the event.

lic, and four each of labor and industry.

The new board will step in when and if the conciliation service fails to bring about an agreement in a given dispute. The board has no power to compel agreements, but is authorized to investigate, recommend settlements, and make public its findings.

Aside from formation of the new board, there were a number of important developments in the defense labor situation.

President Philip Murray of the CIO, acting in his capacity as chairman of the steel workers organizing committee, arranged to meet at Pittsburgh today with J. Lester Perry, president of Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, to discuss union demands for a wage increase of 10 cents an hour and other changes in the SWOC contract with United States Steel corporation. Carnegie-Illinois is a subsidiary of U. S. Steel.

This meeting signaled that the existing contract had formally been reopened. Unless an agreement is reached otherwise by April 1, the contract automatically will be terminated. Some steel sources suggested privately that the matter might be checked to the new defense mediation board.

Efforts continued to settle a CIO strike at the Harvill Aircraft Casting corporation, Los Angeles.

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York appointed a fact-finding board yesterday to attempt to settle the bus strike which has stalled 95 per cent of Manhattan's surface transportation.

Negotiations continued at New York between major soft coal producers and the CIO-United Mine workers, whose 350,000 members in the 8-state Appalachian area seek a new contract with increased wages and other concessions.

VATICAN SENDS PEACE 'FEELERS'

End of War Before Collapse of Italy Reported Sought By Pope.

investigation of how the idea of a negotiated peace agreement would appeal to the people of the world at large.

On the bases of reliable information which has reached London, it can be stated that King Victor Emmanuel of Italy and Pope Pius XII have been in contact with each other. Purpose of these discussions is to remove Italy from the toils of war.

(Editor's note: In an address at Vatican City yesterday the pontiff said: "We desire that the warring nations may resheath their swords in peace, justice, charity, honor and liberty for all.")

The fact that Marshal Pietro Badoglio, dismissed as chief of staff by Premier Mussolini, has been recalled by the Italian king and given a mission shows that the monarch—who has remained in the background for years—is now about to assert himself.

And, according to information in London, he will have powerful backing from the Vatican.

Victor Emmanuel's chief aim is said to be to get Italy out of the war before an irremedial disaster overtakes his country. Another factor is that the Italian populace is said to be getting out of hand and that "anything can be expected" if Italy's defeats become graver than they already are.

The objective of Pope Pius is peace with honor for Italy, apparently with the idea that Mussolini and his whole Fascist system will be shelved.

If this Vatican plan appears to succeed, it is stated, then the Pope plans to make it the basis of proposals for a general peace.

According to information in London a special Vatican envoy, possibly a papal nuncio, already is in the United States in connection with this plan. It is said this envoy will approach President Roosevelt and ask him to use his influence with Britain to make it possible for Italy to present to London definite proposals for a separate peace.

The president also may be asked to declare himself in favor of a general armistice and then issue a challenging call for an international conference — not to discuss actual peace terms but to consider the possibility of achieving peace.

Informed quarters in London said the probable date of a definite move in this direction will be Eastertide.

They said the entire plan will be "opposed frantically by Mussolini and his clique, who know it will mean their doom and that King Victor Emmanuel will resume his full powers."

Italian Crown Prince Umberto is said to be one of the prime movers of the plan.

It is understood, however, that members of the Catholic clergy in Britain, while bound to carry out the wishes of the Vatican, are opposed to a peace agreement which does not involve the complete defeat of Germany.

JURORS PROBE WHIPPING CASE

Ashland Priest Committed To Hospital For Insane; Start Quiz Regardless.

request of a brother, Clarence A. Rooney of Cleveland, was performed by Dr. C. B. Meuser, Dr. Paul Kellogg, Dr. Arthur G. Hyde of Massillon and Dr. H. H. Drysdale of Cleveland.

Dr. Hyde, head of the Massillon state hospital, said in court, "We must be broad minded about this. When we find a sick man, we must take care of him as a sick man. This is a case of sickness as much as typhoid fever."

The head of the state hospital board termed Rev. Rooney a "psychopathic personality."

"Father Rooney is mentally ill and should be given institutional treatment and not punishment," said Dr. Hyde.

Prosecutor Siverling said that the grand jury would consider the case and that if an indictment was handed down, it would be held in abeyance pending treatment for Rev. Rooney.

In addition to the psychiatrists, five witnesses, including the priest's brother and sisters and parishioners, testified that he was high-strung, irrational, nervous and lacked coherency in speech.

Rev. Rooney was arrested on an accusation by the Barrett girl, who lived at the parish house as his ward. She said he awakened her at 4:30 a. m. on March 7, tied and gaged her and whipped her with a heavy leather strap.

The priest said that he punished her for staying out late and associating with what he termed improper companions, but labeled her charges "unbelievable."

The Barrett girl is being held under $500 bond at the detention home maintained by the county in the Salvation Army citadel as a material witness.

TRAILS DISEASE TO BAD HUMOR

German Physician Says Mental Factors Often Cause Many Illnesses.

BERLIN—(INS)—Numerous diseases, hitherto unexplainable to medical science, result from bad humor according to Dr. Schultz-Hencke, noted German physician, who based this revelation on long and thorough observations and examinations.

It has been very often observed by medical experts, Dr. Schultze-Hencke stated, that certain illnesses of organs such as stomach, liver, gall, and heart, became apparent first when the person affected was in a stage of high excitement. So-called 'mental" factors, such as worry, anger, fear, shock play a decisive role in causing sicknesses, he pointed out, asserting the "mental origin of such disease did not mean that they remain mere "imaginative" sicknesses which they very often actually were in the beginning. It has been definitely established that approximately one-fifth of all cases of cardiac neurosis, for instance, in the run of time became organic diseases of the heart.

The German medical expert stated that certain mental processes simultaneously cause changes or sometimes even disturbances in the functioning of certain organs. "Mental" sicknesses are mostly found in people possessing a special predisposition, especially sensitive persons or such of the "neurotic" type. In the case of "neurotic" persons it has been observed frequently that they are unable to "free" themselves of strong emotions—such as caused by anger, or worry—outwardly due to strong inhibition and therefore "explode inwardly" thereby affecting certain organs.

CLEVELAND PHYSICIAN DEVELOPS TREATMENT FOR ALCOHOLISM

CLEVELAND—(U.P.)—A recently developed treatment for chronic alcoholism embodying use of a new drug is achieving results "almost too good to be believed," according to reports of physicians here.

The drug, which is used in pill form, now is being administered by Dr. Michael Miller of Cleveland, to 300 chronic alcoholics, many of whom first came to his attention at the Warrensville, O., workhouse.

Of 269 former inmates treated previously, all of whom were habitual drinkers, Dr. Miller reported that only 16 have been returned to the institution as a result of intoxication.

The nature of the drug used and the dosages will be made known only to physicians, Dr. Miller said, since the pills cannot be administered except under expert supervision.

Dr. Miller's treatment, ranging in duration from one to nine months, includes not only the use of the drug to tide alcoholics over the initial period of abstinence, but also psychiatric adjustment and measures of "social re-orientation."

Function of the drug, according to Dr. Miller, is to provide a sense of well-being without alcohol while other means are used to remove problems which may have caused the alcholism.

FOOD FOR DUCKS

Minnesota Plans Lake to Feed State's Wildfowl.

FOREST LAKE, Minn.—(U.P.)—Migratory ducks may come to look upon Minnesota as one of the best providers in duckdom.

The state conservation department is working on a project to provide better food and sanctuary for waterfowl in seven state owned refuges.

At the state game farm near here, a pond covering an acre of ground has been dug for production of various water plants.

All favorite duck plants will be raised in the pond and transplanted in lakes in the game refuges.

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Lorand Andahazy had to stay on his toes to win his love. Five years ago, Andahazy fell in love with a member of the Ballet Russe Co., when it performed here and attempted to arrange a meeting. When it failed he learned to dance and joined the company.

The girl's parents, in the meantime, persuaded her to leave the Ballet, but she returned to further her career. The couple met recently and shortly afterwards were married.

GIVES LECTURE HERE FRIDAY

Cruickshank, Authority on Bird Lore, To Speak at John Simpson Junior High.

An illustrated lecture on bird lore will be presented Friday afternoon and evening at the John Simpson Junior high school by Allan D. Cruickshank, authority on nature study, under the sponsorship of the Mansfield Nature club and the Audubon society.

The colorful pictures and a talk especially for children will be given at 3 p. m. in the school auditorium, and at 8 p. m. Cruickshank will again speak to an adult audience.

Outstanding in this field, he has been in charge of nature work at Camp Menatoma, Kents Hills, Me., for the past eight summers, and since leaving college, has continued field-work, lecturing both to groups and on the radio. He is also employed at the American Museum of Natural History.

He is well known as one of the most expert of bird photographers in the east, and has an unusual ability to imitate birdcalls. During the winter months he tours on lecture trips, as staff member of the National Association of Audubon societies. Last year he was elected president of the Linnaean society of New York, York.

DISCUSS DATES FOR CONVENTION

Moose Members Tentatively Plan State Meeting for September.

Tentative dates were set last night at a meeting of the Mansfield Loyal Order of Moose No. 341, for the Ohio State Moose association meeting to be held here Sept. 19, 20 and 21, according to officials of the lodge.

Earl A. MacFarland was appointed general chairman of the scheduled association meeting by Paul W. Ritchie, governor of the Mansfield lodge.

Robert C. Knee, state secretary of the Order of Moose, of Dayton, attended the meeting and gave a short talk.

STUDY CLUBS BUSY MAKING FUTURE PLANS

Sappho, Wednesday Groups Arrange Luncheons for Early April, Student Unit Appoints Party Committee.

YESTERDAY was one of the busiest for women who belong to study and literary clubs as meetings were held throughout the city. There were 27 members present yesterday afternoon at the Women's Club when Mrs. F. E. Rudd was hostess to members of the Sappho club. Mrs. Bruce Rogers opened the program with the following vocal selections. She sang "Dawn" by Paul Curran, "Spirit Flower" by Campbell Tipton, and "Awake" by Montague Phillips.

Miss Thelma Reed then played "March" by Fergie Prokofiev, "Procession" by Herbert Howells, "Un Petit An Balance" by Jacques Ibert and four original compositions. Mrs. R. J. Hammer then presented the paper "Wings and Wheels" in which she discussed plastic equipment, construction and fuel for automobiles and airplanes. Mrs. Hoyt Oberlin was a guest.

The next meeting will be a luncheon April 2 at the Club with Mrs. James Bailey, Mrs. R. B. Barker, Mrs J H. Bristor, Mrs. T. D. Brown, Mrs. A. C. Butterfield, and Mrs. Ambrose Middleton.

Mrs. Fred Herring, West Third street, opened her home to members of the Wednesday Study club yesterday when Mrs. Robert Burns and Mrs. George Stephens were entertained as guests. Mrs. Harry Cave had the program on "Canada: America's Problem," by John McCormick

She discussed both the French and British Canadians, pointing out Canada's relationship to the British empire, and telling the audience that Canada could have remained out of the war.

Tea was served from a table decorated with iris, pansies and jonquils. Mrs. Edward Loughridge, president, and Miss Mariel Aberle, charter member, presided at the table. The next meeting will be the annual business meeting and luncheon at 1 p. m. with Mrs. Paul Bovard as hostess at her home on Woodhill road April 2.

The committee for the spring party was appointed last night when Mrs. W. M. Jefferies, West Third street, entertained the Student club with the assistance of Mrs. J. E. Crum Those appointed are Mrs. F. W. Forkner, Mrs. Gordon B. Colby, Mrs. Jack Berno, Mrs. Russell Kohler and Miss Ardelle Bohler.

For the program films on national parks lent by the Department of Interior were shown. Mrs. Dale Balph had the paper. A buffet luncheon was served from a table decorated in pastel shades and centered with spring flowers and lighted tapers. Mrs. Marion D. Ward, jr., poured.

Members will meet April 2 with Mrs. Colby, West Third street, and Mrs. Keith B. Miller The program will be given by Mrs C. R. Montgomery.

Easy Pleasant Way TO LOSE FAT

How would you like to lose ten or more pounds in a month and at the same time feel better perhaps than you have for years?

How would you like to lose your double chin and your too-prominent hips and at the same time feel more youthful and be more attractive?

How would you like to get your weight down to normal and at the same time develop that urge for activity that makes work a pleasure?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh, then get a bottle of Kruschen Salts which will last 4 weeks and is inexpensive—take one-half teaspoon in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on white bread, potatoes, butter and cream. When you have finished this first bottle, weigh yourself again.

Start today girls to get a more graceful, charming, slender figure. Leading druggists all over America sell Kruschen Salts (a famous English formula)—plain or new effervescent—pleasant, sparkling

You can always get it at any druggist. Try one bottle—if not supremely satisfied money back.

Associates Give Ruth Free Party

Business associates of Miss Ruth Free at the Lumbermens Mutual Insurance company honored her with a pre-nuptial party last evening at the Tucker home on West Fifth street. The honoree is the bride-elect of Robert Schmitt of Lucas.

Bridge was played at three tables and prizes were won by Miss Miriam Dye and Miss Free. Miss Marjorie Drake won the traveling prize. Yellow and green appointments were used when luncheon was served at a long table. The group presented the bride-elect with a corsage and a blanket in honor of the occasion.

Miss Free and Mr. Schmitt will be married on March 30 in a closed ceremony at the Congregational church in Lucas. Both Miss Free and Mr. Schmitt are graduates of Lucas high school, and he will be graduated from Ohio State university in June.

STUDENTS APPEAR IN ANNUAL RECITAL

Eugene Weinberger Presents Young Violinists, Mansfield Little Symphony at Hotel Wednesday Evening.

SEVERAL hundred persons filled the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel last night when Eugene Weinberger, instructor of violin, presented his 14th annual recital. The program was opened by Edwin Lockwood playing "Petite Bourree" by Prosse, and "Elegie" by Jerry Hanley. Richard DeSanze then played "Hungarian Dance No. 6" by Brahms, and "Gavotte" by Beethoven, was the selection played by Carl Kraus, Ontario.

Following was "Album Blatt" by Beethoven played by Mary K. Berry, Lexington, and "Idiolio" by Wheaton, was played by Charles Kenny. James Edwards and Fritz Schenk played the violin duet "Dreams of the Shepherds" by Labitzky, and the final selection before the intermission was "Hobgoblin Dance" by Eberhardt played by Judson Dolle.

The Mansfield Little Symphony opened the second half of the program with "Prelude Du Deluge" by Saint-Saens and "Hungarian Dance No. 5" by Brahms. Robert Snyder played the clarinet solo in the first number.

Continuing, Wesley Smith, Greenwich, played the Bohm selection "Cavatina" and Eloise Harbaugh played Borowski's "Adoration," after which the "Largo" from the "New World Symphony" by Dvorak, was played by Joseph Pival, Gladys Arnholt, Geraldine Marlow and Margaret Berry, Lexington, violin, with Mrs. Otilla Myers as accompanist.

Concluding selections were "Thais" by Massenet by Margaret Berry, and "Hullamzo-Balaton" by Hubay, by Joseph Pival. Accompanists were Florence Gernhardt, Gladys Arnholt, Mrs. Myers, Vida C. Smith and Margaret B. Hall.

It's Miraculous How VEL Suds Gives Stockings Extra Life!

With VEL suds, there's no wash-bowl scum to turn colors gray, ruin sheerness!

JUST BREAKS YOUR HEART to throw out silk stockings because they get that sleazy, furry look! Usually—it's wash-bowl scum does it! Yes, that hard-to-rinse-out scum most suds make.

BUT VEL PERFORMS MIRACLES! These sensational new suds give glorious, soft, dirt-dissolving suds, with nary a speck of wash-bowl scum. That's why silk stockings, soft wools, nice undies, washed with Vel, keep their glowing, shimmering sheerness and color.

VEL is made by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co.—is 100% safe, and pure! Bless Vel for its protection to hands, too, because it contains no irritating alkali.

BUY VEL—see what a blessing this scum-free suds is to dainty garments.

LOVE YOUR HANDS? YOU'LL LOVE VEL! CONTAINS NO ALKALI TO IRRITATE SKIN!

PLASTICS, BOOKS TOPICS OF PAPERS

Teachers-Wives Guests of Mrs. Robert DeHaven; Miss Katharine Hartman Hostess to Philomathians.

DEVELOPMENTS and Use of Plastics" was the title of the paper given by Mrs. G. W. Harmony, following the talk on "Wills" given by Atty. H. H. Schettler last night at the meeting of the Teachers-Wives club which was held with Mrs. Robert DeHaven, 606 South Main street. Atty. Schettler told his audience of 28 the history of wills, and how and why the laws effecting wills have changed.

A question period followed. Mrs. Harmony told that the first plastics were made in 1865 by John Wesley Hyatt when he made the billiard ball. She listed all modern plastics and illustrated them. Mrs. Frank Bennett was program chairman.

Pastel shades and spring flowers were used when refreshments were served. Associate hostesses were Mrs. E. W. Kissel, Mrs. A. H. Wood, Mrs. Earl Heasley, Mrs. J. Parker O'Brien, and Mrs. C. C. Secrist. The next meeting will be held April 16 at the home of Mrs. L. C. Baumgardner, Courtright boulevard, South Boulevards, with Mrs. Vern Hoffman having the program.

The home of Miss Katherine Hartman, Park avenue west, was the scene of the meeting of the Philomathian club last night. There were 21 members and one guest, Miss Barbara Hartman, present for the meeting which was conducted by Mrs. Charles Newcomb, secretary.

Mrs. Oliver Henkel reported on the making of bedside tables for the Richland County Tuberculosis sanatorium, and Mrs. Martin Brunner announced the contribution of cleansing tissues to the institution.

The paper was a "Book-o-logue" in which Mrs. Lewis Hartman reviewed several modern books. Freesia decorated the tea table, and Miss Barbara Hartman poured. The next meeting will be held April 2 with Miss Kathleen Sturges as hostess.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS
Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste
If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Clips, Buttons Match

Gauntlet gloves are ruffled to the wrist and caught with clips of the same design as the button originals featured on this navy blue jacket suit. It is a simply tailored style with white pique edging the heart-shaped neckline, a dressy costume which still looks right all day.

Shamrock Favors Disclose Coming Nuptials at Party

TWENTY friends of Miss Mary Anne Huck learned of her approaching marriage to George Warner when her mother and sister, Mrs. W. C. Huck, sr., and Mrs. Ruth Huck, entertained with an announcement party yesterday evening at their home, 197 South Mulberry street.

Guests learned of the coming nuptials at the close of the evening when luncheon was served at a long table. The places were marked by green shamrocks and orange blossoms bearing pictures of the couple and the date of their wedding, March 25. The ceremony will be solemnized at 7:30 o'clock that evening before the altar of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Bridge and hearts were played at the party last evening, with prizes going to Mrs. Edwin Davis, Mrs. Steve May and Mrs. Paul Davis. The luncheon table was decorated with green and white appointments, lighted tapers and a centerpiece of white sweetpeas and green carnations.

Both Miss Huck and Mr. Warner are graduates of Mansfield Senior high school. She is a dental assistant, and he is employed by Kallmerten and Baer.

FINAL BOOK REVIEW GIVEN BY CLEVELANDER

Mrs. W. E. Benninghoff Discusses "Random Harvest" By James Hilton As Program for Congregational Association.

By FRANCES E. GENSLEY

FOR her final program in Mansfield this year Mrs. W. E. Benninghoff, Cleveland, reviewed "Random Harvest" by James Hilton before an audience of several hundred people at the First Congregational church last night. Mrs. Benninghoff's appearance here was sponsored by the Women's association of the church.

The book, Hilton's latest, which would lend itself admirably to the flash-back variety of movie, tells the story of Charles Rainier, an English manufacturer and a veteran of the first World war. In the opening scenes it is Armistice day, and Rainier is chatting with a chance acquaintance on a train.

From that point the drama develops swiftly with Rainier disclosing his complete lapse of memory during a three year period following a shell shock in France. Finally one night, when Rainier and his young companion drop into a cheap theater the events of the three years come back to him.

The manufacturer then tells his companion of the three years during which he married Paula, and went to Liverpool for an interview with a newspaper editor. While there he fell, and his memory was restored, but the three year period was left a blank.

It is only after Rainier sets out to find Paula, and his present wife follows him that the listener learns that Mrs. Rainier is Paula, and can see a happy ending for the couple who have been haunted all their lives by a ghost of three years.

Mrs. Charles Fox, president of the association, introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Benninghoff will return in the fall for another series of reviews, it was announced this morning.

STUDY CLUBS BUSY MAKING FUTURE PLANS

Sappho, Wednesday Groups Arrange Luncheons for Early April, Student Unit Appoints Party Committee.

YESTERDAY was one of the busiest for women who belong to study and literary clubs as meetings were held throughout the city. There were 27 members present yesterday afternoon at the Women's Club when Mrs. F. E. Rudd was hostess to members of the Sappho club. Mrs. Bruce Rogers opened the program with the following vocal selections. She sang "Dawn" by Paul Curran, "Spirit Flower" by Campbell Tipton, and "Awake" by Montague Phillips.

Miss Thelma Reed then played "March" by Fergie Prokofiev, "Procession" by Herbert Howells, "Un Petit An Balance" by Jacques Ibert and four original compositions. Mrs. R. J. Hammer then presented the paper "Wings and Wheels" in which she discussed plastic equipment, construction and fuel for automobiles and airplanes. Mrs. Hoyt Oberlin was a guest.

The next meeting will be a luncheon April 2 at the Club with Mrs. James Bailey, Mrs. R. B. Barker, Mrs. J. H. Bristor, Mrs. T. D. Brown, Mrs. A. C. Butterfield, and Mrs. Ambrose Middleton.

Mrs. Fred Herring, West Third street, opened her home to members of the Wednesday Study club yesterday when Mrs. Robert Burns and Mrs. George Stephens were entertained as guests. Mrs. Harry Cave had the program on "Canada: America's Problem," by John McCormick.

She discussed both the French and British Canadians, pointing out Canada's relationship to the British empire, and telling the audience that Canada could have remained out of the war.

Tea was served from a table decorated with iris, pansies and jonquils. Mrs. Edward Loughridge, president, and Miss Mariel Aberle, charter member, presided at the table. The next meeting will be the annual business meeting and luncheon at 1 p. m. with Mrs. Paul Bovard as hostess at her home on Woodhill road April 2.

The committee for the spring party was appointed last night when Mrs. W. M. Jefferies, West Third street, entertained the Student club with the assistance of Mrs. J. E. Crum. Those appointed are Mrs. F. W. Forkner, Mrs. Gordon B. Colby, Mrs. Jack Berno, Mrs. Russell Kohler and Miss Ardelle Bohler.

For the program films on national parks lent by the Department of Interior were shown. Mrs. Dale Balph had the paper. A buffet luncheon was served from a table decorated in pastel shades and centered with spring flowers and lighted tapers. Mrs. Marion D. Ward, jr., poured.

Members will meet April 2 with Mrs. Colby, West Third street, and Mrs. Keith B. Miller. The program will be given by Mrs. C. R. Montgomery.

Easy Pleasant Way TO LOSE FAT

How would you like to lose ten or more pounds in a month and at the same time feel better perhaps than you have for years?

How would you like to lose your double chin and your too-prominent hips and at the same time feel more youthful and be more attractive?

How would you like to get your weight down to normal and at the same time develop that urge for activity that makes work a pleasure?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh; then get a bottle of Kruschen Salts which will last 4 weeks and is inexpensive—take one-half teaspoon in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on white bread, potatoes, butter and cream. When you have finished this first bottle, weigh yourself again.

Start today girls to get a more graceful, charming, slender figure. Leading druggists all over America sell Kruschen Salts (a famous English formula)—plain or new effervescent—pleasant, sparkling.

You can always get it at any druggist. Try one bottle—if not supremely satisfied money back.

Associates Give Ruth Free Party

Business associates of Miss Ruth Free at the Lumbermens Mutual Insurance company honored her with a pre-nuptial party last evening at the Tucker home on West Fifth street. The honoree is the bride-elect of Robert Schmitt of Lucas.

Bridge was played at three tables and prizes were won by Miss Miriam Dye and Miss Free. Miss Marjorie Drake won the traveling prize. Yellow and green appointments were used when luncheon was served at a long table. The group presented the bride-elect with a corsage and a blanket in honor of the occasion.

Miss Free and Mr. Schmitt will be married on March 30 in a closed ceremony at the Congregational church in Lucas. Both Miss Free and Mr. Schmitt are graduates of Lucas high school, and he will be graduated from Ohio State university in June.

It's Miraculous How VEL Suds Gives Stockings Extra Life!

With VEL suds, there's no wash-bowl scum to turn colors gray, ruin sheerness!

JUST BREAKS YOUR HEART to throw out silk stockings because they get that sleazy, furry look! Usually—it's wash-bowl scum does it! Yes, that hard-to-rinse-out scum most suds make.

BUT VEL PERFORMS MIRACLES! These sensational new suds give glorious, soft, dirt-dissolving suds, with nary a speck of wash-bowl scum. That's why silk stockings, soft wools, nice undies, washed with Vel, keep their glowing, shimmering sheerness and color.

VEL is made by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co.—is 100% safe, and pure! Bless Vel for its protection to hands, too, because it contains no irritating alkali.

BUT VEL—see what a blessing this scum-free suds is to dainty garments.

LOVE YOUR HANDS? YOU'LL LOVE VEL! CONTAINS NO ALKALI TO IRRITATE SKIN!

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, March 21.

A day of exceptional good fortune, prosperity, progress and happiness is forecast from the very auspicious positions of major planets. There may be swift-moving events, culminating in surprising denouements, with gain, increase and expansion in worldly affairs and with stirring adventures in the emotional life, based on sudden change and far-reaching and dramatic episodes in the romantic, intellectual and spiritual life. The thrills and excitement of such occurrences should not be nullified or complexioned by rash, impulsive or ill-temepered moods or indulgences. Renew business contracts, compose litigation.

If It Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may be on the eve of a year of outstanding adventure, with dramatic moments of keen enjoyment both in business and emotional life. Romance is at hand, with sudden change, surprising and far-reaching effect on the future and its fortunes. This operates in the intellectual and spiritual life, while in materials things there is increased property values, successful litigation. It is a most propitious time for renewing any form of contract. However, impetuosity, recklessness or turbulent conduct might negate these most favorable auguries.

A child born on this day should have outstanding ability in many lines of endeavor, business, professional and intellectual.

"The Authority on Authorities"

PLAY FOR ALL BREAKS

Probably no kind of declarer play produces a more pleasing thrill than that in which you have to play the cards in some one exact way which will not work unless every important outstanding card is exactly where you want it. That striving for every possible break, and getting every one, gives you a feeling of having refused to "give up the ship."

That was bidding them high, wide and handsome, in the recent twenty-five rubber match in which Morrie Elis of New York, ranking player of the current season, and Charles H. Goren of Philadelphia, top man of two years ago, barely defeated Mrs. Ralph C. Young of Philadelphia, last season's leader, and Mrs. Albert M. Sobel, this year's leading woman.

Against Mr. Goren's contract in the South, Mrs. Young led the diamond 3. He saw he had to get rid of four losers in the red suits. There were not enough entries to set up the clubs and run them, so only one of the four losers could be parked on them. Three would have to be ruffed, which would leave dummy only one trump for a lead. A second lead through East's trumps would be necessary, even if they lay fortunately, and that could be done only by having the eleventh trick won in dummy. So he planned that way.

The lead was won by the diamond A and the spade 8 led. Mrs. Sobel ducked, so did Mr. Goren, and Mrs. Young won with the Q, only trick her side got. She returned the diamond 4 to the K. The diamond 2 was ruffed by the spade 3, heart 2 led to the K, heart A cashed, heart 7 ruffed with the spade 4, two club tops cashed for a diamond discard, club 7 ruffed with the spade 9, heart 10 ruffed with the spade 7, and there was the lead in dummy. A club was led and Mrs. Sobel, with the spade K-10 had to play before the spade A-J, so could not take a trick.

As he played it, Mr. Goren had to find East with three trumps, including the 10 and the K or Q, exactly four hearts, exactly three diamonds and exactly three clubs, with West having the remaining cards also distributed exactly. He refused to "give up the ship"—one mark of a real champion.

Tomorrow's Problem.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

"Anything," Ronald told me extravagantly. "Name it"

"It's very simple. I told him. "I want you to promise me not to ask Carolyn a single question about Marion or anything that has happened."

He was silent for a second or two, with his eyes fixed intently upon me.

"That's a hard promise," he said, "but I'll make it."

"Thank you," I told him. "I'm going to see Carolyn myself before I leave for New York, and I shall tell her that you will not ask her a single question, but that she must make no objection to your accompanying her back to Weirhampton with Uncle Dicky. I am also going to tell her that nobody will bother her when she gets back to college, that she will be free to do anything she likes."

"Carol's pretty shrewd, if she is a fool about some things," her brother said. "Do you think she'll believe that last?"

"Probably not," I said indifferently, "but she'll have to pretend to believe it, there'll be nothing else for her to do. And as the days go on with no hint of anyone watching her movements, she'll begin to believe what I said. Then, if that man tries to get in touch with her, my father's agents will be ready . . ."

"I want to be there when they nab him," he said with something sinister in his voice. "It isn't on the free list for things like him to crawl into Carolyn's orbit."

"It will be useless for you to be there," I told him. "They won't nab him."

"Won't nab him," he echoed, in astonishment. Then comprehension struck him, and he added hastily:—

"Oh! I see! They mean to trail him, and see if they can find the man who is with Marion. You think the two men are connected, don't you?"

"Indubitably," I told him, then I turned toward the door.

"I'll run along now," I said, "and send your mother up to you."

"Please do!" he said. "Poor Mother! I've driven her nearly out of her mind."

"Remember! not a word which would make her suspicious of the real state of things!" I warned him.

"I'll remember," he said, then he cleared his throat hesitantly.

"The letter," he said. "Are you going to take that with you?"

"I must, Ronald," I said firmly. "And you must believe me that I shall show it to no one, who is not vitally concerned in seeing it."

"All right," he said reluctantly, and I went out of the room on the permission, and descended the stairs to the library, where I found Dicky wth Sam and Helena, all three patently waiting to hear the result of my mission.

But Helena was the only one who spoke. Mother-like, she could not wait to hear my report.

"Oh! how did you find him, Madge?" she asked wildly. "Would he talk to you at all?"

"Finally," I said, not wishing to appear to flaunt too easy a victory, "I think I made him see how he was worrying you, and he asked me to ask you to come up."

"Oh! you darling!" Helena exclaimed. "I'll run."

But at the door she turned with a backward glance at the somewhat downcast face of her husband.

"You come too, Sam," she said.

"Did he ask for me?" Sam turned to me.

"I am sure he expects you," I said. "He said he was going to tell his mother she could have his room cleaned if she wanted to. And he spoke of you as if he wanted you."

"Then I'll go right along," Sam Brixton said happily, "if you folks will excuse me."

"Oh! surely," Dicky and I chorused, and when they had gone, Dicky looked at me quizzically.

"You managed that in masterly fashion," he said. "May I infer that you have something important to report?"

Light Breakfasts Preferred, Chefs' Survey Indicates

NEW YORK—(INS)—After a survey of some 2,000 chefs, it was revealed that the most popular hotel and restaurant breakfast consists of orange juice, a cup of coffee, two doughnuts, and a cigaret.

Fifteen years ago a similar restaurant poll pointed out that a breakfast of fruit juice, ham and eggs, toast and coffee was tops in public favor in that era. Apparently, modern day life makes for speedier and lighter morning meals.

Chefs from all sections of the country participated in this novel survey. It was further reported that the average time consumed by a person having a restaurant breakfast nowadays is 10 minutes, whereas 15 years ago fully a half hour was devoted to the meal.

The poll did reveal, however, that Southerners spend more time eating breakfast than do Northerners and Westerners.

Rev. Margard is pastor of Calvary Reformed church here. He was introduced by the club president, Mrs Albert McJunkin.

The following program committee, Mrs Herbert Spielman, Mrs. Earl Feik, and Mrs. Milton Klinger was named for the annual guest tea to be held May 6 at the home of Mrs. J. B. McCarter.

Miss Marie Welshon will be guest speaker for the next regular meeting of the circle at the home of Mrs. Ned Reed, April 1.

The first chapter from the study book "Dangerous Opportunity" was reviewed by Miss Emma Minich at the meeting of Ruth Missionary circle held at the home of Mrs. C. J. Strauch with Mrs. John Wise associate hostess.

The classical meeting at Delaware on April 18 and 19 was announced and Mrs. Eckert and Miss Minich were elected delegates.

The April 15 meeting will be at Calvary Reformed church with Mrs Paul Kindinger and Miss Cora Cover hostesses.

COUNTY WOMEN DISPLAY RUGS

300 From Crawford Attend 5th Annual Achievement Meet at Bucyrus.

BUCYRUS — Between 250 and 300 farm women of Crawford county attended the fifth annual Achievemena day held Tuesday in First Evangelical church.

Project work completed during 1940-41, included many braided and hooked rugs were on display during the day. As a part of the program Mrs H Trostmiller outlined a report on the rug making project.

The morning address given by Miss Edna Calahan of the Ohio State university extension department, was devoted to spring fashions.

A chalk talk entitled "Your Clock of Life," given by Miss Nina Burson, Wyandot home demonstration agent, was a part of the afternoon program. Mrs. R. A. Cronels offered an illustrated talk on flower arrangement and Miss Mary Ellen Hartwell and Miss Mary Hout discussed personal grooming.

Special music by Mrs. S. K Solars, violinist and Mrs. Paul Kuehnle, organist, was featured on both morning and afternoon programs.

EASTERN STAR PLANS BENEFIT

WILLARD — A benefit party will be sponsored by the past matrons of Superior Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

The affair will be held at the O. E. S hall Friday evening.

This group recently purchased new furniture for a room at the hospital and proceeds from the party will be used for additional furnishings.

HOSPITAL NOTES

GALION—Admissions to Galion City hospital, Thursday, were Mrs. Katherine Riester, route 1, Salem; and Mrs. Sadie Parker of route 2, Galion; and Mrs. Floyd Finical

Those dismissed were: A. H Lowe, east of Caledonia; Mrs William Thoman, Mrs. Thomas Ellis and daughter.

PLAN EXHIBIT

College Art Club Sponsors Display March 21-22.

ASHLAND — The Art club of Ashland college is planning an exhibit of paintings by Ashland county and city artists March 27 and 28 It was originally planned for March 21 and 22. The exhibit will be arranged in the social rooms of the college.

The College Y M. C. A. amended the constitution to establish a system of awards for active membership for periods of one, three and four years. With the president, Jack McVickor of West Salem, in charge of the meeting recently, Archie Martin, West Salem, led the singing and Robert Robbins of Warsaw, Ind., led devotions.

The College Y. W. C A. was addressed by Rev. Ray Klingensmith, secretary of the Brethren Mission board. He stated that spiritual life develops from experience and is the most powerful element in personality. Student participation in the program included song service, led by Margaret Stranahan of Columbia Station; devotions by Charlene Phillips of Nova and special music by June Kurtz of Elkhart, Ind.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr and Mrs. C. A. Bertsche and children will go to Milton, Pa., Friday where they have been called by the death of Mrs. Bertsche's brother, George Munson who died at his home in that city Wednesday.

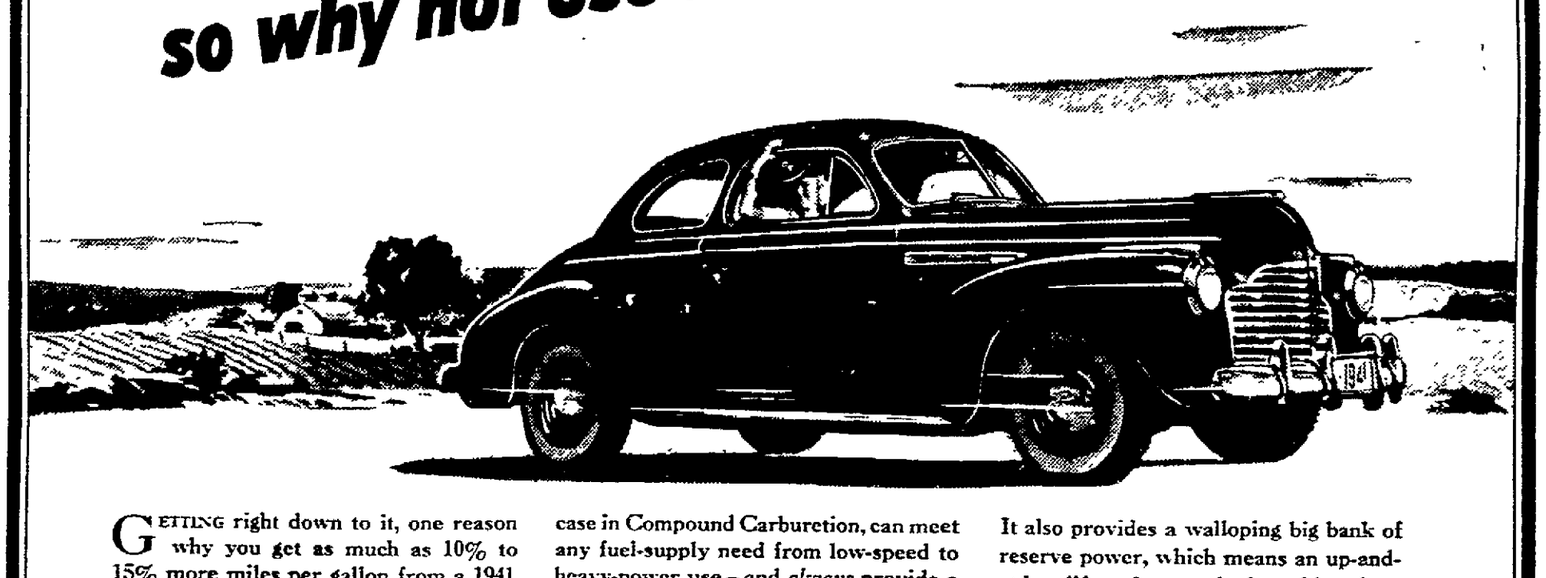
AIR'S FREE so why not use it?



GETTING right down to it, one reason why you get as much as 10% to 15% more miles per gallon from a 1941 FIREBALL Buick with Compound Carburetion is that this engine is supplied with more air.

For it is a mixture of gasoline and air that gives you power.

A single carburetor, no matter how many jets it has, can handle only so much air – which is nearly always too little for full-out, high-power performance.

But two carburetors that function as needed, as is the case in Compound Carburetion, can meet any fuel-supply need from low-speed to heavy-power use – and always provide a well-balanced mixture.

They can double the air supply as well as the gasoline feed—and that's something you can't do in any single-carburetor car.

So Compound Carburetion leads to big savings in fuel costs.

You get as much as 800 miles for the gas-cost of 700 in earlier Buicks of the same size.

It also provides a walloping big bank of reserve power, which means an up-and-at-'em lift and surge that's nothing short of thrilling to experience.

And you can have Compound Carburetion, you know, on any 1941 Buick – it's only a few dollars extra on the swell big SPECIAL pictured here, and standard equipment on all other models.

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

You Can't Print That!

(A compendium of tales that can't be told with names, because they're too true to print. If you see in them any resemblance to actual persons, living or dead—you've probably guessed right!)

* * *

JEFFRY is a Broadway producer. His name has been famous in this and every other town in the country for two decades at least—maybe more—and he's still going strong.

Kilgallen.

You never see him without a pretty girl, or two or three. Pretty girls are easy for him to get, they have been for two decades at least—maybe more. Not because he's charming, but because he can do things for pretty girls, and some of them know it.

The older he gets, the younger the girls he goes with. He takes them to night clubs—but never to the altar. He's a tough boy, a hard-boiled customer who never gave anybody a break

But Jeffry has a soft spot. It only shows when he drinks a lot and he's sitting with an old friend.

Then he takes out his wallet and exhibits pictures of a pretty girl about 17. He's never met her—never even seen her, except in snapshots. She's the daughter of a girl named Mary who used to be a chorine in one of Jeffry's shows.

She is also Jeffry's daughter. Mary has never taken a cent from Jeffry, never asked him for help, in all these years. Maybe she knew better. But because, in a bitter way, she felt rather sorry for him, she sent him, every year, a picture of their child—who is now just the age of the chorines he likes to take out.

But you can't print that. You can't ask Broadwaytes to cry over a sob story about Jeffry. They know him. If he has regrets, so what? If he's lonely, it's too good for him.

Ralph is one of England's popular film stars—handsome, dashing and, above all, brave. He's even appeared in films that have hit the Main Stem, and feminine fans on this side drop him mash notes. His daring exploits in films with military backgrounds are sensational. There isn't a reel in which he doesn't save the empire single-handed.

His audience don't know that Ralph really isn't brave at all. That when war was declared he packed his belongings and hid in the country. And that his best friends mailed him the traditional symbol of cowardice—the white feather.

When the war finally caught up with him, Ralph managed to convince the authorities that he ought to remain where it was safe and act in propaganda pictures.

And that's why you'll keep seeing him, instead of other English stars (who are fighting), in many of the imports. You see, he'd rather score at the box office than against the enemy.

But you can't print that. His fans wouldn't believe it anyway—can't they see with their own eyes how fearlessly he overcomes the villains on the screen?

This story has a happy ending, and it could take place only on Broadway.

Sally was a young actress who had won much more attention in the daily papers than on the stage. Her romances and her gags were fine gossip-column fodder, but they didn't add up to anything that would make a producer hire her.

A press agent named Johnny saw her perform and was impressed.

"I think you're good," he told her. "I think you could have a fine career and I wish you'd let me help you."

Sally said she'd be delighted. Johnny explained that the publicity she was getting was all right for the scrapbook but not too good for the future. He'd like to give her a real build-up. So Sally put herself in Johnny's hands and things began to happen. Sally's exploits moved onto the drama pages and her romances were unreported.

It's been a long time since Sally has been mentioned in the columns with an escort, and by this time she is happily on the way to what looks like a bright career.

But don't get the idea that Sally has forgotten about romance. She and Johnny will be married next year!

Still, you can't print that. On Broadway, a press agent doesn't make good copy—if he's part of the copy himself.

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—Night clubs are not averse to Latins from Manhattan when the customers are crying for Latins.

"South of the Border" was written by a couple of English lads who've never been south of the border, or north of it, or anywhere on these shores.

ROBBIN COONS

Considering items like that, you should be able to guess where the Casa Loma orchestra came from—"Casa Loma" being Spanish for "house on the hill." Canada, of course. Toronto, where the boys took the name of the resort hotel where Glen Gray landed them their first engagement back in 1929.

Glen Gray and the boys are making their first movie, having eschewed previous oportunities to appear in shorts. They are doing "Time Out for Rhythm," with Rudy Vallee, Ann Miller, Rosemary Lane and other musical stars. Nights, they play at the Palladium, Hollywood's big ballroom-cafe.

The Casa Loma band is a corporation — closed. The original 10 men of the orchestra are the stockholders, the six others draw salaries only. Incorporation, says Gray, was planned to make the band permanent, to avoid the temptation that usually arises when individual musicians make names and are offered bands of their own. It has worked.

Gray—he says the gang took his name only because the trend was toward featuring a leader—is from Metamora, Ill. He played clarinet in the high school band, went to Illinois Wesleyan for two years, worked for a railroad and on the side organized "Spike's Jazz Band" — Spike being his nickname. He was playing a saxophone with the Jean Goldkette band in Detroit—along with Clarence Hutchenrider, Pat Davis and Kenny Sargent, all Casa Lomans today—when Goldkette retired in 1929.

That left the boys unorganized, and it was then that Gray landed them at the Casa Loma spot in Toronto. Incorporation followed, but there were two years of barnstorming through New England before an Atlantic City engagement won them a radio sponsor. Until 1937 Gray played saxophone. That year the "board" put him up front with the baton.

Mark Menke, News-Journal pressman, showing fellow-employes a copy of the Kokomo, Ind., Dispatch of March 20, 1921, of which he was pressman, and calling attention to a Page One story which related that he wasn't on the job to start the press that day because he had been called home. The reason: birth of a daughter, Mary Jane. That would make Mary Jane 20 today . . . so congratulations.

OHIO CHAMBER WARNS BRICKER ABOUT SURPLUS

Governor Told Piling Up Funds To Cut Taxes Might Not Be 'Smart Politics.'

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Rebuffing the Ohio State Chamber of Commerce's concert opposition, the house taxation committee today recommended extension of the one-cent-a-gallon liquid fuel tax for two years.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS—The Ohio chamber of commerce warned the Bricker administration today it might not be "smart politics" to pile up a treasury surplus with the objective of reducing taxes in 1942.

The chamber, opposing re-enactment of the one-cent-a-gallon liquid fuel tax for two years, said the present financial program would produce a surplus of approximately $16,000,000 next year.

The Democratic minority in the legislature has charged that Gov. John W. Bricker deliberately underestimated 1941-42 state revenues so he would call the general assembly back 15 months hence and reduce taxes to further his 1942 political ambitions.

"When and if this special session comes," the house taxation committee was told last night by George B. Chandler, executive vice president of the chamber, "everybody will want their taxes reduced. There will not be enough reductions to go around. You are liable to make more political enemies than friends."

Chandler recommended a one-year extension of the liquid fuel tax which, he said, would permit a treasury surplus of $4,806,000. Governor Bricker estimates the levy will yield $13,800,000 this year.

The taxation committee rejected an amendment to limit the extension to one year. Tax commissioner William S. Evatt said it would throw the budget out of balance.

The committee also voted down proposals to give $5,900,000 of the liquid fuel revenue to the local governments and to earmark all the yield for highway construction. The proceeds now go into the general fund.

Republican leaders said the two-year extension, already approved by the senate, would be recommended for passage today.

ATTENDS PARLEY

Richland Relief Head at Canton District Meeting.

Relief Director J. V. Finney of Richland county and other relief heads from northern Ohio counties are scheduled to meet in Canton today and Friday to discuss changing relief problems. William H. Hartsough, state relief consultant, announced today.

He said the discussions would center around medical care, care of migrants and non-residents, and the operation of the food stamp plan.

The conferences will enable state and local administrators of relief to discuss rural and semi-industrial problems, Hartsough added. Similar meetings will be held later this month in other cities.

DEATH CLAIMS F. H. CYPHERS

Mansfielder Dies At Veterans' Hospital In Illinois.

Frank H. Cyphers, 48, of 68 Rowland avenue, died Tuesday in a veterans hospital at Hines, Ill., following a six-week illness.

HIT U. S.-CANADA WATERWAY PLAN

Senators Oppose Agreement To Use Niagara River For Power, Navigation.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Some opposition developed in congress today against the freshly-signed U. S.-Canadian agreement to harness the St. Lawrence river for power and open its turbulent waters for navigation by ocean-going ships.

Most senators who successfully fought ratification of a St. Lawrence treaty submitted in 934 were immediately critical of the new agreement, advocated by President Roosevelt as a vital defense move.

Senator Adams (D-Colo), said that from a defnese standpoint he could not see much immediate benefit in a project requiring four of five years to complete.

Declaring power was needed for defense industries, Senator Norris (Ind-Neb.), sided with the president and said the project would benefit the entire nation.

Senator George (D-Ga.), who voted against the treaty when it failed of ratification seven years ago, said the new agreement would have to be studied in relation to current plans for national defense and aid to Britain.

Those favoring the St. Lawrence project considered its chances enhanced by the fact that the agreement would come before congress in the form of legislation requiring only a majority vote in each house of congress, rather than as a treaty, which requires confirmation by two-thirds of the senate.

Government Will Buy Trailers To House Workers

CHICAGO—(INS)—Now it is the defense workers' households that are to be motorized—thousands of them within a few months. The government has ordered 5,500 trailer coaches for the purpose, and they are to be produced within four months.

James L. Brown, a past president of the Trailer Coach Manufacturers' association, said today the government trailers can be produced without any interference with normal production, which averages 1,250 units a month. The government program calls for 500 trailers the first month; 1,000 the second; 1,500 the third, and 2,500 the fourth month.

Congress appropriated $6,000,000 to pay for the trailers, which Carl L. Brandt, special assistant in the division of defense housing at Washington, said would be used as temporary homes for defense workers pending completion of permanent houses.

GIRL HELD

Delaware Escapee Found Working In Chicago Factory.

CHICAGO — (AP) — Maxine Carnes, 16, Chillicothe, is being held here as an escapee from the Girls Industrial School at Delaware.

Detective John Watson said the girl related, after being found working in a factory here, that she fled the Ohio institution last November for the third time since her commitment two years ago.

BILL TO RECODIFY SCHOOL LAW AWAITS ACTION IN OHIO SENATE

COLUMBUS—A bill to create a bi-partisan commission to make a sweeping two-year survey and recodification of Ohio school laws had been passed by the house and awaited senate action today.

Laws related to school financing, administration, organization, transportation and other problems frequently figuring in legislative matters would be subjected to a searching scrutiny by the nine-man commission which would be required to submit a recodification proposal to the legislature by Jan. 15, 1943.

The commission, consisting of three senators, three representatives, and three persons to be appointed by Governor Bricker, with Lieut. - Gov. Paul M. Herbert and House Speaker William M. McCulloch serving in an advisory capacity, would be empowered to take testimony, subpoena witnesses and compel the production of books and records at public hearings, and to employ legal assistance in drafting the new code.

"We haven't been getting a hundred cents on the dollar on school appropriations and we propose to find out why," said Rep. Walter L. Tarr (R-Hamilton), author of the bill. "School laws were last recodified in 1913 and today when a bill comes before the educational committee there is such confusion we seldom know whether we are doing a proper job or not."

"The committee is constantly at sea as to the interpretation of school laws as they apply to the situation since the school foundation act was passed," Rep. John Paskell (R-Perry), chairman of the educational committee, said in urging the bill's passage.

JUBILEE SPEAKER

Msgr. Goebel to Give Address at St. Joseph's College.

Msgr. R. C. Goebel, pastor of St. Peter's church, will be the principal speaker at the opening of St. Joseph's college golden jubilee celebration at Rensselaer, Ind., April 30, according to an announcement by the Very Rev. Dr. Aloys Dirksen.

Enrolled at St. Joseph's from 1899 to 1903, Msgr. Goebel has been requested to speak on a familiar theme, "St. Joseph's Place in Catholic Education."

Other Mansfield residents who are alumni of St. Joseph's are: the Rev. James Dwyer, Rev. Russell F. Gillig and Rev. Bertrand J. Shenk; John A. Dalton, Robert F. Fisher, Joseph F. Forwith, William Greter, Edward Mahoney, Richard Perl, Robert C. Pfeifer, Bernard J. Rachel, Robert Woodard, Edward J. Henrich, Kenneth A. Hurlow, Joseph Kemp, Martin G. Kenney and Frank P. Yirga.

The opening celebration slated for April 30, because that is the feast of the patronage of St. Joseph will be for the clergy alumni. Clergy and laymen will have a joint celebration on alumni day early in the summer.

SINGERS APPEAR HERE TONIGHT

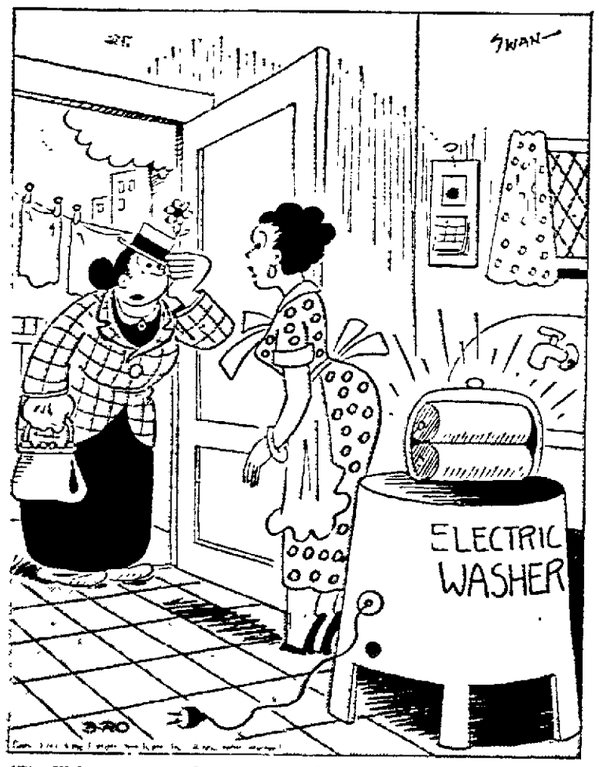
Mitchell Chapel Brotherhood To Present Simpson Concert.

The St. John's Singers will be presented at John Simpson Junior high school auditorium by the Brotherhood of the Mitchell Chapel A. M. E. church today at 7:30 p. m.

St. John's Singers are radio and concert artists who have broadcast frequently over radion station WCLE, Cleveland.

The program will consist of spirituals and songs of the south.

Laff-a-Day



"You'll be sorry you let me go, ma'am. Remember, you can't get no gossip out of an electric washer."

Baku Grotto will be able to give a spring serenade with a new band and orchestra. J. Merton Holcombe has organized a 30-piece band and 16-piece orchestra, both made up of Grotto members. The group held its first rehearsal last night and before long will present its first concert.

Mansfielders may welcome the arrival of warmer weather, but in Brazil, where W. B. Johnson, engineer for the Ohio Brass company, spent the winter, the folks are pretty sick of the heat. In a letter to selective service board 1 where Johnson is registered, he said Brazil has had the hottest weather in 35 years with office workers adopting a schedule of 7 to 10 a. m. and 4 to 8 p. m. to avoid the midday heat. Summer is just ending in South America. Despite the heat, Johnson likes Brazil. "They take two hours off for lunch and have coffee at 4 p. m. which isn't so bad," he wrote. Johnson, who was in Sao Paulo on business, had an appendicitis operation while he was there and just left the hospital. He plans to return to Mansfield this month.

W. T. Houston, assistant Mansfield postmaster, is relating with much glee the story of a Mansfielder who visited Chicago recently. As the Mansfielder left Chicago he discovered as he entered the railroad depot that he had forgotten to pay his hotel bill. Purchasing tickets for his return here, he penned a note to the hotel officials, enclosed a check for his bill and then went to the train. But in his haste the Mansfielder had also included his train tickets with the check to the hotel which was then in the safe keeping of the U. S. mails. He had to board the train and purchase tickets again for his return to Mansfield. The hotel later returned the tickets to him.

Ohio Public Service workers today removed a source of complaint from North Walnut street, an electric wire touching parking meter 13 near the Farmers Bank building. Motorists placing coins in the meter in rainy weather had complained of receiving shocks. So today, the meter was taken up and the electrical disturbance removed.

ILLNESS FATAL

Mrs. Jennie Oswalt, 75, Dies at General Hospital.

An extended illness resulted in the death at General hospital at 3 p. m. yesterday of Mrs. Jennie Davison Oswalt, 75, a life-long resident of Weller township. She was the widow of James Oswalt.

Mrs. Oswalt was born in Bedford county, Pa., March 28, 1865, and later she came with her parents, Mason and Elizabeth Hickman Davison, to the Richland county vicinity. She was a member of the Franklin Methodist church.

She is survived by a son, Carl B. Oswalt of Franklin township; three daughters, Mrs. Samuel Widders of Weller township; Mrs. Cloyd Clingan of Pavonia, Mrs. Linna Hershey of Weller township; a sister, Mrs. Mary Daubenspeck of Mansfield; a brother, Charles Davison of California; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Prayer services will be held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Widders in Weller township at 2 p. m. Saturday followed by funeral services at the Franklin Methodist church at 2:30 p. m. Services will be conducted by Rev. W. L. Peters, assisted by Rev. F. M. Dickey. Burial will be in Franklin cemetery.

HIGH COURT RULE STOPS LICENSING

Cleveland Police Hold 200 Machines as Authorities Act In Other Areas.

(By Associated Press)

Although still viewed variously as both a bane and a blessing, pinball machines—those fascinating little gadgets which for a nickel reward their players with numerous sounds, a minor aurora borealis and sometimes cash in the bargain—appeared today to be on their way out of Ohio.

Spurred by a recent supreme court decision that the city of Youngstown had no authority to license the marble boards as a source of revenue, several cities have moved to outlaw the devices entirely.

A survey showed that Cleveland police seized and held about 200 of the machines. To date the law department has refused to release them. A Cleveland licensing ordinance was invalidated by the supreme court a year ago.

At Toledo the city coffers derive about $50,000 annually under a licensing plan which has not yet been attacked successfully. Toledo derives another $100,000 a year from fining "numbers" racketeers—a source of revenue so accepted that the budget carries an item for it.

Pinball operators in Marion county have until Saturday to eliminate the machines under an edict from Sheriff J. W. Harruff.

Slot machines, on the other hand, appeared to cause only minor concern at most points.

Youngstown, never overrun with the devices, reported even less activity in this field since the pinball showdown. Observers reported an infiltration of punchboards in recent weeks.

A continuing Cuyahoga county grand jury investigation is aimed at curbing slot machine operations as well as other forms of gambling. A temporary blanket shutdown resulted from the latest drive, although several gaming clubs are known to have reopened on a curtailed basis.

At Columbus, where monthly revenue from gambling fines averages in excess of $20,000 numbers writers and house operators make the most substantial contributions.

Pinball machines, banned completely from the state capital several weeks ago, have made tentative reappearances in some establishments. The city has few slot machines, although the devices flourish in spots beyond the corporation line.

Spasmodic prosecution was reported in Cincinnati. Twenty-seven slot machines were seized in recent raids on three downtown private clubs.

India Provincial Capital In Flames Following Brawl

BOMBAY—(AP)—A large part of Dacca, in the province of Bengal, was reported afire today following a Hindu Moslem quarrel which started in a drinking shop.

The military has been called out to preserve order. Police twice opened fire on the rioters and casualties were reported to include 14 killed and 100 wounded.

A steamship, four smaller boats and a freight shed on the Burigunga river and many shops in the town were ablaze.

All educational institutions, banks and commercial concerns were closed. Curfew was imposed and street gatherings were forbidden.

Dacca, capital of a division and district of the same name, is on the Burigunga river, 155 miles northeast of Calcutta. It has a population of about 90,000.

Sport Podge by REX HESS

Commissioner H. R. Townsend of the Ohio High School Athletic Association has invited the Lorain High team of 1923, first state class A champion under the present tournament system, to return to Columbus this year as guest of the tourney.

Townsend sent the bid to Coach Worth "Pop" Collins, who later coached at Baldwin-Wallace, and Collins delegated Lorain Patrolman Ralph "Bep" Faris, to round up the rest of the gang.

Other members of the club were John Alexander, Hi Gove, Clark King, Calvin McNutt, George Van Arnam Howard Ross and Rolland Horn.

I was working in Lorain that memorable winter, and after seeing them luck out a win on last-minute long shots over a classy Youngstown quint, I decided they weren't nearly as good as the home-town fans believed.

So from then on I had a standing bet of a hot fudge sundae, or similar concoction, on every game with the cute little girl who wrote personals for us on the old Times-Herald.

Lorain lost just one game all season, to Bellevue at Bellevue for the Little Big Seven championship. The dopes were on me, the dope!

And the Lorains won the state title by defeating Bellevue in the closing seconds of play when Van Arnam, knocked down under the hoop, sank the deciding shot while lying flat on his back.

Later, as the Lorain Lions, the club went to town just as the Waterloo Wonders did years later. And the rivalry between the Lions and the Mt. Vernon Kay Pees was just about the hottest semi-pro argument in the state. Never a game that didn't have a fight or two or three, on the floor and in the crowd.

Came one snappy semester when the Mt. Vernons won at Mt. Vernon, and the Lorains at Lorain, and they played off the tie on the Ashland armory floor.

But the game was decided on the ceiling. The long-shot artists on the Lorain club couldn't arch their heaves through that low roof, and the Mt. Vernons were bright enough to back their defense clear to the foul circle.

The gym was jammed for sure. And the feeling! My dear, you wouldn't know! On the floor the battle raged, and in the crowd the fights started. And I came as close as ever I came to fisticuffs with a fellow scribe, Jimmy Gallagher of Lorain, now general manager of the Chicago Cubs.

After all these years I've just learned the first name of H. R. Townsend. It's Horace. I'd always wondered why he used that Home Run sign for a monicker. Now I know. As a kid, with that name he HAD to run home.

That's enough for today, and now I'm off for this year's state jousting at Columbus.

(The boys in the back room have just corrected me. They claim that last paragraph should have ended: Now I'm off, period.)

Union Indians To Be Honored

The Union Indian basketball quad will be honored with a banquet at the Union Rural high school, Wednesday evening March 5, at 7:30 o'clock. The meal will be served by the ladies of the Franklin Methodist church.

The members of the committee in charge of the ticket sales reservations must be made before Tuesday, March 25.

Letters will be awarded by Union coach, Richard Bradstock

WESTINGHOUSE FIVE MEETS PITTSBURGH

Westinghouse cagers will meet the East Pittsburgh ouintet in a basketball tilt at the Senior High school, Saturday night at 8:30.

The East Pittsburgh hoopsters are reputed to be plenty tough. The Westinghouse boys were previously defeated by this team and will try their best to turn the tables.

The Faultless Rubber quint of Ashland will meet the All-Stars of Mansfield in a preliminary tilt scheduled for 7:30.

Ohio Hoop Tourney Lid Lifted

Outstanding Favorites Lacking at Columbus.

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ohio's outstanding high school basketball teams—16 in Class A and 16 in Class B—launch the last lap of the long state championship race today, a jaunt that only two of them can win.

The Class A squad which succeeds the dethroned New Philadelphia squad will be king of 246 teams representing schools boasting 150 or more male students, while the new Class B ruler, replacing New Carlisle which fell in the qualifiers, will be rated the best of 911 smaller school teams.

The 32 finalists, survivors of county, sectional and district tournaments which swept 1125 other aspirants aside, will meet today, Friday and Saturday for the championships in the two divisions. Today's Class B contests, starting at 12.30 p. m. were scheduled at Ohio State university's gymnasium, with the A contests at the state fairgrounds coliseum. All Friday and Saturday tilts are booked at the Coliseum.

Practically all the entrants took an early look at the championship arenas, the two courts having been thrown open for practice from Wednesday noon until noon today.

Along with the championships, the squads have plenty of tournament records as targets. Ed Sadowski of Akron North set the Class A single-game scoring record in 1935 with 25 against Coshocton, while Lawrenceville's Ronnie Peter's topped Class B with a 28-point spree in 1933.

Newark's Buddy Mercer scored 64 points in 1938 for the best Class A all-game mark, four under the 68 which Orlyn Roberts of Waterloo scored in 1934 to lead the Class B contingent. Hamilton's 56-point splurge against Perrysburg in 1937 is the highest Class A single game total, while Waterloo holds the Class B mark with 58 against Chandlersville in 1934.

On the defensive side the best mark is held by Akron East, which beat Fremont 18 to 9 in 1930. That same year saw Lancaster St. Mary beat Proctorville 34 to 3 for the Class B record.

Several former champs are included in this year's entrants, Zanesville winning the Class A laurels in 1926, Portsmouth in 1831, and Newark in 1936 and 1938. Waterloo, Class B champ in 1934 and 1935, is the long ex-king returning in the smaller school sector.

Each team in the tournament is limited to 10 players, which means that only 320 of the 25,203 lads who started the season will get a crack at the championship trophies.

For the first time in years, the tournament has no outstanding favorite in either division, in Class A the favored squads are Middletown, Canton McKinley, Newark and Martins Ferry, but all four are in the same half of the draw and only one can reach the finals.

In Class B it looked like a free-for-all race, with some of the squads depending on balance and team play, while others hoped to shake loose high-scoring stars for enough points to win.

Of the five players named to the first team of the Associated Press Class B All-Ohio team, four are in the tournament. Any one is capable of carrying his team a long way, and some fine individual duels are in prospect when the All-Ohio talent tangles.

Greenberg Would Fight

Ready To Take Punch at Next Draft Kibitzer.

By HENRY M'LEMORE

LAKELAND, Fla.—(U P)—Hank Greenberg may have asked his draft board for deferment, but it doesn't alter the fact that he wants to fight.

Hank is gathering all his forces and needs only one more incident to provoke him into unleashing total warfare on some of the most hard-bitten troops in the world—the press photographers.

The big Detroit outfielder, baseball's highest paid player, has severed relations with the cameramen and only heroic work by neutral appeasers has kept Hank from swinging at objects much more animate than baseballs these last few days.

There was that electrifying moment in a Lakeland hotel at four o'clock in the morning, for example. Greenberg was sound asleep and probably suffering from the flat feet, backache, and fractious wisdom teeth that he mentioned to his draft examiners, when there came a knocking at his door that would have disturbed Edgar Allen Poe and half a dozen ravens.

When Hank didn't answer the summons the knocking increased and he finally had to open the door. There stood a cameraman with his picture taking equipment in one hand and a machine gun in the other.

Would Hank mind, the cameraman asked, posing for a picture sighting the machine gun as if he were mowing down a mess of advancing Axis shock troops.

Hank's answer was something to the effect that while he wouldn't pose for any such shot, he would like nothing better than to turn the gun on his near-daybreak visitor and sit on the trigger.

LUCAS BUCKETBALL SEASON TO CLOSE

The Lucas basketball curtain drops next Tuesday night with a double-header at the high school gym.

Lucas Lutherans will meet Mansfield Westinghouse of the City A league in the first game at 7:30, and McCready's, who finished third in the Mansfield Y. M. C. A. league, will tangle with Yuncker "Y" team in the second tilt.

BOWLING SCORES

Glen Lanning, sr., is leading the all-events in the national Moose tournament at Dearborn, Mich., scores compiled today of Mansfield bowlers at the alley just showed. Lanning chalked up a total of 2,143 points.

Consider Landis Successor

General Marshall May Get Diamond Job.

By GAYLE TALBOT

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. —(AP)— Perhaps it is an extremely long shot, but the next high commissioner of baseball might be General George C. Marshall, the present chief of staff of the expanding United States army.

The question of the next diamond commissioner naturally arose at the meeting of major and minor league magnates here yesterday, when one of the requests made by the minor leaguers was that they be given a chance to help name the eventual successor of the present baseball commissioner, Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

There is no particular rush to locate a successor to "the jedge," as he still is hale and hearty and playing his daily round of golf over the nearby Belleair course. But there is no harm in reporting that General Marshall made a rapt impression on the baseball colony in a recent one-night stand on the Florida west coast.

Names, unfortunately, cannot be used at the moment, but one of the game's top executives said this:

"I couldn't think of a man now who would make such a fine commissioner. He's fairly young and he's a nut about baseball. Of course, it's difficult to say whether he would be interested in such a job—holding the job he does now."

"Don't worry about that," interjected a member of the party. "Did you ever hear of anybody who wasn't interested in a job at about $75,000 a year?"

The chief of staff, talking to the baseball men, displayed an active interest in their plight.

"Is the draft worrying you?" he asked them. "Are you losing many of your good men?"

* * *

"We don't know yet, general," they replied. "But whatever we lose it's okay."

"Well, don't worry about it," said the head of the army to the baseball men. "Whatever men they (meaning the draft board) take away we are going to send a lot of mighty fine men back."

Yunckers-Clubs In Tournament

Yuncker Sports hoopsters, Class A champions of 1937-38-39, will meet the Akron M. O'Neill Monacos, Rubber City title holders, in the first round of the Willard tournament.

The Akron quintet won the tournament last year, and are undefeated in 20 games this season. The game is booked at 8:45 p. m. Friday.

Manager Jim Breres asks the following players to meet at the store at 7 p. m. Friday: Harding, Boyd, Dials, Herpick, Tharp, Reichert, Hummel, Poole and Brandon.

Club Billiards will meet the Huber Transports Thursday at 8:45 p. m. in Class B at the Willard tourney.

14-YEAR-OLD GIRL SETS SWIM RECORD

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(INS)—Negotiating the distance in 3:07.8, Patty Aspinall, 14-year-old Indianapolis swimming ace, today chalked up a new American record in the 220-yard breast-stroke final of the Women's National A. A. U. senior championships. The former record of 3:09 was set last year by Fujiko Katsutani of Honolulu.

State Studies Boost In Take

Triple Tax on Race Track Bets Proposed.

COLUMBUS — (AP) —Legislation intended to triple the state's "take" from horse racing and tighten its regulation of tracks came out of the senate judiciary committee today with a recommendation for passage.

Senator Grant P. Ward (R., Columbus), author of the bill, estimated it should increase the state's racing income to $350,000, as compared with $123,000 last year.

The measure would give the state 3 per cent of all money wagered. The "cut" is now 1 to 2 per cent, but mostly 1, Ward said.

Certified public accountants would be appointed as track inspectors, assuring a more accurate checkup on the betting, the senator asserted.

The state racing commission also would appoint a state supervisor of mutuels and put its own representative at the tracks as presiding steward.

Furthermore, the commission could require the tracks to install totalizers, which are mechanical devices for recording wagers. Proponents of the legislation said these devices would insure accurate odds.

Other provisions of the Ward bill are:

The four-man commission must include an owner and breeder of standardbreds (harness horses);

* * *

Running races may be conducted until 8 p. m. (now 7 p. m.) and may not conflict in dates unless they are 100 miles apart (now 50), and handbooks instead of mutuels may be used at harness races.

Indians Blank Colonels

Tribe Looks Good on Minor League Diet.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(U.P.)—It took minor league opposition to do it but pennant optimism was on the rise again today in the camp of the Cleveland Indians.

The Tribesmen delivered both good pitching and good hitting yesterday to whitewash the Louisville Colonels of the American association, 7 to 0, and even the Indians' spring record at five wins and five losses.

Most pleasing performance was that of Lefty Al Smith. There had been doubts if the southpaw could deliver another 15 victories next season as he did last year.

Lefty Al pitched the last four frames against the Colonels and blanked them without a hit or a walk. He faced only 12 batters and, of course, not a man reached first base.

Young Jim Bagby did almost as well in the first five innings, allowing only two hits, both singles in the fifth.

Meanwhile, the Tribe collected 10 safeties including two doubles by Lou Boudreau.

The only drawback to yesterday's happiness fest was the continued failure of Jeff Heath and Ray Mack to display any potency at the plate. Neither even came close to a hit.

"I'm a little worried about Mack's hitting," Manager Roger Peckinpaugh confided. "Not that I have any ideas about changing his style but he is too tight up there. I have moved Heath in closer to the plate and am going to see what happens there."

* * *

Bob Feller and Clint Brown are scheduled to hurl today for Cleveland against the St. Louis Cardinals. The Indians play Louisville again tomorrow at Fort Myers.

Bob Hamilton Wins Free Toss

Thirty-six boys took part in the senior foul shooting contest at Friendly House last night.

The shoot ended in a tie between Paul Schadek of the Foresters and Bob Hamilton of the City News, each boy making 19 out of 25 tries.

* * *

In the shoot-off again they were tied, each making 17 tries out of 25. In the second shoot-off Bob Hamilton won the event by making 22 out of 25 throws.

Hamilton will be presented with a trophy by the Junior Association of Commerce.

Champion Reds Wallop Cards

Find Rivals For Flag Easy Picking.

TAMPA, Fla.—(U P)—Of course, they aren't playing for "keeps" yet but in two spring games the world champion Cincinnati Reds haven't encountered too much trouble against the St. Louis Cardinals, touted as a leading rival for the national league flag this season.

The Reds have grabbed both games in impressive style. Bob Logan, an ancient rookie, and John Hutchings, a second string hurler, scattered nine Cardinal hits yesterday to hand the Redlegs a 6 to 2 victory.

* * *

The work of Logan was especially fine. He allowed only one run and five safeties in six innings on the mound

Manager Billy Southworth of the Cards isn't worried, however.

"My club may not look so good right now but we will be quite a ball cub when we open in Cincinnati on April 15," he remarked.

Southworth is banking heavily on the additional power to be added by the bat of Johnny Mize who has been a holdout until recently and the return to form of such pitching veterans as Lon Warneka, Bill McGee, Morton Cooper and Clyde Shoun.

Southworth used rookie pitchers yesterday and the Reds bunched 10 hits and six walks for six runs Catcher Bill Baker boosted his stock for the job of No 2 backstop by slamming out two singles and a double.

The Reds play the New York Giants today.

No Changes In A. B. C. Leaders

ST. PAUL—(INS)—For the first time since the giant tournament started a week ago, the 41st American Bowling Congress round out a full day of pin-toppling today without a single change in the standings among leaders.

* * *

Reason for the slackening of pace has been the presence of "booster" squads on the alleys—teams with averages of 850 and under—pending arrival of some of the better known high-scoring teams this week-end.

* * *

Leaders in the various divisions were: Five-man — Grubaugh Funeral Home, Detroit, 2829; two-man—Hilla Kallas and Frank Caravella, Milwaukee, 1289; singles—Kallas, 727, all-events — George Tishock, Miwaukee, 1961.

Simon Fails To Worry Louis

DETROIT —(AP)—Joe Louis has no doubt as to the outcome of his battle with ponderous Abe Simon, set for 20 rounds or less, tomorrow night.

All that is worrying the powerful Negro is how long it will take to explode his 250-pound foe and whether he'll damage his hands in doing it.

A damaged hand would be a serious blow to the world's heavyweight champion in his "fight-a-month" campaign. He is scheduled to box Tony Musto in St. Louis April 7 and Billy Conn in New York in June

Louis promised today to knock out Simon with the first punch if possible.

SCOUTS BENEFIT IN BUCKETBALL FIESTA

Boy Scouts of Bellville will benefit from a bucketball program closing the cage season tomorrow night with three games starting at 7.30.

Finals of the intra-mural tournament will open the evening's hoop fiesta, followed by a tilt between the high school team and the Ex-Hi's. Winding up the program will be a game between the Has-Beens and the high school reserves

All proceeds will go to the Boy Scout fund.

BUILDS MORALE

LAKELAND, Fla. —(AP)— Buck Newsom is doing his bit to keep up the Detroit Tigers morale and keep them hustling for another pennant. He created some commotion yesterday by verbally jumping onto a young pitcher for loafing. The other veterans feel the same way.

Seton Hall Five Turns On Heat

NEW YORK—(AP)—Seton Hall's basketball team, unbeaten in 43 games since 1939, resembles a double barreled shot gun that has been winning target shooting championships on one barrel.

Last night in the National Intercollegiate Invitation tournament at Madison Square Garden the Setonians from South Orange, N. J., showed that they hadn't really squeezed their scoring trigger previously and overwhelmed Rhode Island State, 70-54, to move into the semi-finals.

Long Island University beat Westminster, 48-36, to fill out the bracket along with Ohio University and City College of New York, which had triumphed Tuesday night.

The semi-finals will be played Saturday night and the finals on Monday.

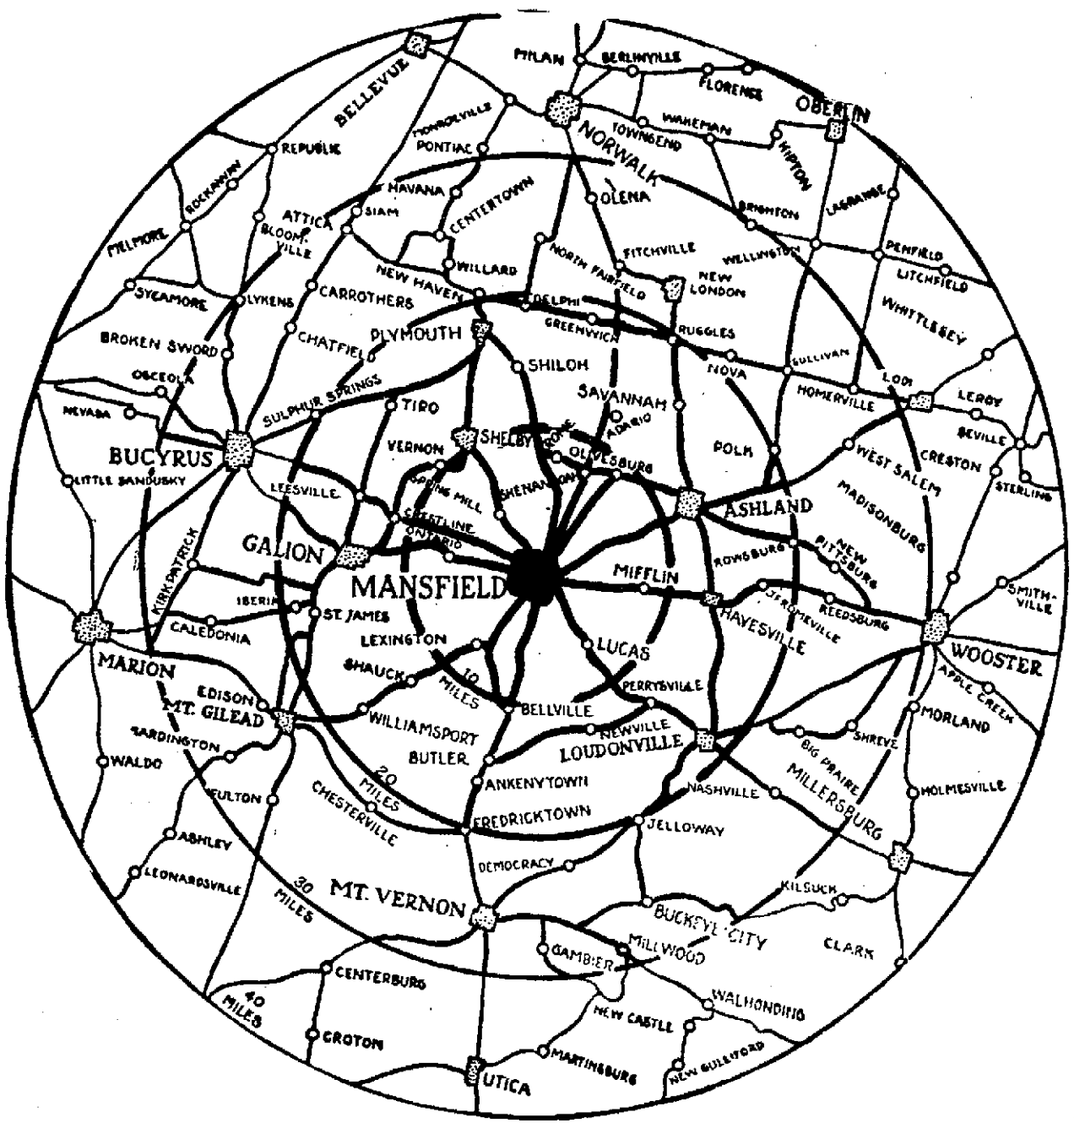
The MANSFIELD MARKET

AN IMPORTANT "TESTING GROUND"

USED TIME AND AGAIN BY National Advertisers



And "Why Should National Advertisers Choose Mansfield for Test Advertising and Merchandising?" The answers are many. Mansfield has been selected on various occasions as "a typical small American city," as "America's greatest small city," as "Ohio's fastest growing and best small city,"–the facts support these designations, for in truth Mansfield both as a city and a market enjoys a unique position in comparison with other sections of the state and country.

The Mansfield market has balance. Industries in Mansfield are diversified and have provided a steadily growing level of employment for the people of Mansfield and for many in nearby communities. Good business is not a thing of recent months here, Mansfield has been "good" all the way. Likewise, urban communities in the Mansfield Trade Area,–Galion, Bucyrus, Ashland, Mt. Vernon, Shelby, Crestline, Loudonville are not "depression dead" towns, but thriving, growing communities, whose people look to Mansfield as their nearest center with city advantages. All the benefits of rich, varied Ohio farming accrue to the Mansfield market, – for its topography ranges from rolling grazing lands of Appalachian foothills, to grain-rich prairies and muck-lands intensively diverted to vegetable cultures.

Mediums of merchandising to the Mansfield market are ideal,–adequate transportation facilities, an abundance of attractive, modern stores of all kinds, conveniences designed to win and hold customer favor, and the opportunity of presenting to ALL the MARKET a merchandising story by ONE ADVERTISING MEDIUM, The MANSFIELD NEWS-JOURNAL, published both DAILY and SUNDAY.

Mansfield Is a Fine Test Market Because It Is So Typical of American City Progressiveness!!

THE NEWS-JOURNAL SERVES MANSFIELD and North Central Ohio DAILY and SUNDAY

In the homes of Mansfield and its Trade Area, The News-Journal is as much a part of the scene as the dog curled before the fire, as salt on the table or the fancy shell Uncle Henry brought home from the Buffalo Exposition. The News-Journal stands as every family's daily contact with the great things abroad in the world and contact, as well, with the homey little things happening to the folks close about us. Things presented in The News-Journal are read, respected and, most important, responded to with enthusiasm.

The Mansfield Chamber of Commerce and The News-Journal have market information available at all times for interested persons or concerns.

DAVE'S HIS SON

PORTLAND, Ore.—(INS)—F. C. Quimby of Raymond, Washington, owes his life to his father who recently kept him from bleeding to death after a freak accident. Working at a logging camp young Quimby's ax glanced off a limb and, bouncing back, severed his jugular vein. His father, John Quimby, quickly grasped the ends of the vein and held them closed for nearly an hour until a doctor arrived. The doctor said the youth would recover.

The Bunny Boys

Easter is just around the corner, as the saying goes, and Film Player Jane Frazee feels it's about time to get the Easter bunny in perfect shape. She starts by dabbing pink paint on its nose. If you can take your eyes off Miss Frazee, you'll note that.

KROGER

Freshness is Precious in beef! Like all food, beef deteriorates with age.

As with other foods, ageing makes beef literally "dry out," causes expensive waste, forfeits rich juices and natural vitamins. Kroger's Tenderay is not only amazingly tender, but it has all the extra values of fresh beef—natural flavor, abundant savory juices, and more of its vitamins.

TENDERAY SPEEDS UP NATURAL TENDERING 14 TIMES, OUTMODES WASTEFUL AGEING, CONSERVES VALUABLE JUICES, REDUCES LOSS OF NATURAL VITAMINS. KROGER'S TENDERAY IS THE WORLD'S ONLY GOVERNMENT PATENTED METHOD OF TENDERING FRESH BEEF. GRADE FOR GRADE, NO OTHER BEEF SO FRESH CAN BE SO TENDER! THIS CLAIM CANNOT BE TRUTHFULLY MADE FOR ANY OTHER BEEF.

CHAPTER IV

"You didn't seem to think it necessary when you worked for Mr. Mulford."

Joan put the salad bowl on the table and set places for two. "You know how I feel about Karl, Syb!" she said in a low voice. "Why make it hard for me?"

"All right! From now on I'm not saying another word. You can do just as you like, Joan. Maybe it's none of my business, after all."

Joan put an affectionate arm about her sister. "Don't feel that way, darling. But give me a little credit for knowing what I'm doing. I'm not a child, you know."

Sybil smiled as she turned back to the stove but she said no more.

As Sybil had predicted, it was raining when Joan reached the club but the weather had not seemed to affect business. Already the first guests were arriving. The bar was crowded. Gay laughter, conversation, tinkling glasses made an exciting combination of sounds which spelled success for the future. Joan felt a little thrill of pride as she passed on down the corridor to the office.

She settled herself at her desk and began to type. Karl was not there. Her mind wandered as she worked. Only a week ago she was working for Arthur Mulford. Now everything was different. Life had turned a fresh page, which Joan felt sure would be filled with adventure. It must have been fate that she answered Karl Miller's advertisement. Fate that Mr. Mulford had gone out of business and been forced to fire her. Yet it still seemed peculiar to Joan that Mr. Mulford should close his shop without telling her; and the mystery of his new secretary was certainly unexplained. Perhaps Karl had misunderstood. Joan determined to walk by the shop some day and find out for herself. She had a great curiosity to discover the motive for people's actions. Perhaps this was why she found Karl Miller so interesting. Yet Joan told herself that no matter what mystery shrouded Karl it would make little difference to her.

She was thinking about him so intently that when he opened the door she felt the color rush into her cheeks. And she knew that his keen eyes had observed her embarrassment.

Karl seemed pleased. "Everything's going fine. Couldn't be better."

"I was afraid the rain might make a difference."

He laughed. "You underestimate San Franciscans It takes more than a little rain to dampen their spirits. By the way, where's that contract we made out this afternoon?"

Joan rose and placed it on his desk. He looked up at her and smiled and the girl felt the familiar attraction rush over her. "Here's the contract . . ."

He did not glance at it. "I spoke to Mrs. Murdock. Tell your sister she can start work Monday morning."

"Oh thank you!" Joan cried. "It's so kind of you, Karl!"

He rose, came around the desk. "Has it made you happy, Joan?"

"Of course" her eyes faltered beneath the steel-blue eyes.

Karl Miller laughed softly as he drew her into his powerful arms. Sybil's warnings rang in her ears but the pounding of her heart overcame them as her lips blindly met his.

There was a strange magic in Karl Miller's kiss. How long Karl held her in that embrace, Joan did not know. When he released her he put a hand beneath her chin and looked deeply into the green eyes that were filled with emotion.

"Oh, Karl!" Joan cried softly, but before she could say more the office door opened and a man entered.

His eyes caught the little scene and he turned to go. "Sorry, Karl See you later."

Joan turned back to her desk with flaming cheeks but Karl Miller did not seem embarrassed. "It's all right, Paul Come on in. I don't think you've met my new secretary. Miss Leland, this is Paul Sherman.

Joan was forced to look into a pair of brown eyes. Their owner was tall and lithe. He had a quick smile, brown curly hair. It was a good-looking face, with its straight nose and square jaw.

"I'm very glad to meet you," Paul Sherman said emphatically.

Joan acknowledged the introduction and turned quickly back to her typing. What would this man think of her? Karl had said, "my new secretary," which implied that they had not been acquainted long. Joan told herself that she didn't care what Paul Sherman thought, yet—for some indefinable reason—she did.

"Paul is my right-hand man," Karl said, opening a panel in the wall which revealed a tiny but complete bar. "He manages the club. You'll probably be seeing a lot of e ach other. Have a drink, Paul?"

The other sat down and crossed his long legs. "A short one. I have to get out front again. Things look good, Karl . . . What do you think of the club, Miss Leland?"

At the unexpected question addressed to her. Joan started. "It's very nice," she replied, dark lashes sweeping over her embarrassed green eyes. She had an uncanny feeling that Paul Sherman was staring at her, conscious of her embarrassment. She was so confused that she made three mistakes in one line. It was not easy for her to turn emotion off and on as Karl Miller did. She marvelled at his coolness as he sat on the edge of his desk and talked to Paul.

"By the way," Paul was saying, his eyes still on Joan, "Eric wants to see you. He's in the bar. Wants you to meet some people."

Paul finished his drink. "I'm right with you, Karl."

Joan was relieved when they had gone. She pushed back her hair and made no pretense of finishing the letter she had been typing. It was thus that Paul Sherman found her when he returned to the office a few seconds! ater.

She started guiltily when he came in. "Oh, it's you again!"

"You don't seem too pleased to see me," Paul observed, shutting the door carefully behind him. "But as a matter of fact, I came back on purpose."

Joan stared at him in disapprovel. "You mean that no one wanted to see Karl?"

"Oh, sure That was legitimate, but when I saw a chance to slip away, I took it." His friendly smile made it difficult to be offended.

"Well," Joan asked flatly, "what do you want?"

Paul laughed, displaying even white teeth. "To talk to you. You needn't be so annoyed. After all, I am the manager of the club."

Was there a hint of cynicism in his voice? "I'm sorry," Joan said, trying to smile. "I guess I'm not used to this type of work yet."

"That's what I am getting at," Paul said seriously. "How did you happen to come to work for Karl Miller anyway?"

Her genuine surprise showed in her voice as she replied, "What do you mean?"

"Just what I said. Who suggested it to you?"

"I lost my job last week." Joan told him, wondering why she was doing so. After all it really wasn't any of Paul Sherman's business why she was here. "That same night I saw a want ad for this one. I came down to apply and Karl, Mr. Miller, hired me."

"You didn't know Karl Miller before that?"

"I don't see what it is to you," Joan flared resentfully.

"Don't bite my head off," Paul said pleasantly. "I just wondered, that's all. I would like to be your friend, Miss Leland. You may need one."

"I'm doing all right" Joan said, irritated.

"Okay. But just one more question. Have you met Karl's partner, Eric Strom?"

Joan answered him reluctantly. "Eric Strom? No, I haven't met him. Why?"

"I'm the one asking the questions," Paul retorted, and Joan felt that he was laughing at her as he rose and went to the door.

"I have work to do, Mr. Sherman," she said crossly.

"Call me Paul. By the way, how about having dinner with me some night?"

Joan was surprised at the audacity of this request. "I expect to be very busy," she said coldly.

"Nevertheless," Paul Sherman retorted, "I shall meet you on Monday night at 6 o'clock." He mentioned the grill of a well-known hotel.

"I have no intentions of being there"

"By Monday you may change your mind."

Joan sighed as the office door shut behind him. It seemed that at every turn she met a surprise. What would Karl say if he knew that his manager had tried to make a date with his secretary? The secretary whom only a few moments ago Karl had held in his arms. A thrill stirred in her heart at the memory of that kiss. Yet in a way she was glad that Paul Sherman had interrupted that perfect moment. What possessed this impudent young man? And why in the world had she answered his questions? He was young, good-looking and friendly, and in spite of her resentment, she rather liked him. She hoped however that he would not continue trying to see her outside the office. Karl would be angry if he knew and Karl's wrath was one thing that Joan would not risk.

"Karl!" Joan thought, closing her eyes against the memory of his handsome, expressionless face, steadying herself against the flood of emotion that swept over her. "I shouldn't have let him kiss me," Joan told herself. "But I love him! I love him, yet I'm afraid . . ."

Even to herself Joan did not like to admit that the reason for her fear was that Karl Miller did not return her affection. True, he had taken her out; he had even kissed her. But Joan doubted that any woman could possess his entire heart. The situation intrigued her; at the same time she was frightened.

DIDN'T HELP

EPHRATA, Pa.—(INS)—A hard, semi-transparent coating on the mastoid bones behind the ears of a draft registrant prompted the board physician to ask "What's wrong?" "Well, Doc," stammered the prospective rookie, "you see my ears are so big I put glue on them so they won't stick out so far." The youth was rejected for bad teeth.
